

DLANQUET MAY BECOME PRESIDENT OF MEXICO.

Huerta Followers Pleased at Getting Rid of Felix Diaz.

Officials at Capital Say Former General Has Eliminated Himself from Politics by His Action in Taking Refuge Aboard an American Warship—Provisional Executive Denies Report He Will Resign.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—In the event that the Huerta-Blancquet flight is shown to have been a majority sufficient to be declared elected, as now seems probable, Congress will declare the Huerta votes void, and Blancquet will take the oath as Vice-President and assume office as President, pending the calling of further elections.

This statement was made by the Mexican Foreign Minister tonight.

The action of Gen. Felix Diaz in taking refuge on an American warship is regarded by government officials as an act of cowardice for which there was no justification. Diaz, it is insisted, was in no danger. Had he accepted the overtures of Gen. Huerta, he would have been treated with every consideration, according to Senor Madero, the Foreign Minister.

Senor Madero declared the conduct of Gen. Diaz unpatriotic, cowardly and inexplicable. Every guarantee was assured Diaz, the Minister said, and unusual honor was shown him in dispatching a special train and putting the school ship at his disposal. He declared upon what ground Diaz based the fear which possessed him. When the flight was announced, the Mexican people were shown him in dispatching a special train and putting the school ship at his disposal. He declared upon what ground Diaz based the fear which possessed him.

Among Mexicans there is a difference of opinion, many believing Diaz would have fared badly had he accepted Huerta's overtures. On the other hand it is pointed out that the bearing of Diaz throughout affairs last year was that of a man lacking in moral and physical courage.

Foreign Minister Madero expressed the opinion tonight that no international complications would follow the American Charge had no comment to make on the subject.

CALLS IT ASSURD.

A report which gained much currency here tonight, that Gen. Victoriano Huerta had offered to resign the Presidency in favor of David de la Fuente, former Minister of Education, and the candidate of the Liberal Republicans in the recent election, was characterized later as absolutely untrue by the Norwegian Minister, Michael Stromlin, who had been credited with being one of the principals in the transaction.

According to the report, Stromlin called on President Huerta, accompanied by several other European diplomats, and pointed out to him the danger of complications with the United States, expressing a desire to avoid them. Gen. Huerta, it was reported, had responded that if the foreign governments would guarantee the safety of himself, his family and his property, he would willingly resign. He would choose David de la Fuente as his successor.

When Senor late tonight the Norwegian Minister said that there was not the slightest foundation for the story. He denied having seen President Huerta on any subject that had any connection with such action. The American Charge d'Affaires, Noel O'Shaughnessy, declared that he knew nothing of it.

Senor Madero, Minister of Foreign Affairs, was in conference for a considerable time with the President this evening, but the nature of their discussion was not disclosed.

MEXICO CHUCKLES AT DIAZ FLIGHT.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 28.—Mexico, as represented by her authorities here, is chuckling over the Diaz incident. Diaz is resting contentedly aboard the American warship Louisiana, and Rear-Admiral Fletcher is wondering just what disposition Washington will ask him to make of his self-invited guest.

This was the net situation at the close of Gen. Felix Diaz's first day as a refugee. Ashore the arrest of two or three persons of lesser importance served to sustain interest. It was not generally known that the German consulate has become an asylum for a follower of Diaz, Rafael Alcala, a brother-in-law of Diaz, alarmed for his own safety, sought refuge with Consul Gertz. The Mexican authorities apparently are ignorant of his presence there.

Friends of Alcala expect to get him out of the country at the first opportunity and the possibility is that he, too, will become a refugee on a warship. If so, it is probable that the German consul, the German cruiser, will be chosen. No order has been made for his arrest.

PRESIDENT MUM ABOUT MEXICO.

DECLINES TO MAKE PUBLIC ANY NEW POLICY.

All Wilson Will Say Upon Return from Mobile is that He Enjoyed the Trip—Governor of North Carolina Greets Him, South Carolina Executive Absent.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Wilson returned to the capital tonight at 10:30 o'clock from Mobile, Ala., and motored immediately to the White House. He had nothing to say about Mexico.

On account of the many phases of the situation in Mexico arising in his absence, the President declined to say what would be the next step by the United States until he had conferred with other administration officials. When he was asked if the United States would announce a new course of action to bring peace in Mexico or allow the previous reputation of last Sunday's election to stand as his fixed policy, he said:

"I am not discussing Mexico at present with anybody or commenting on the situation there."

The President told his friends that he rarely had enjoyed a trip as much as he did his journey to and from Mobile. He received such a spontaneous welcome everywhere on his route that he had a pair of weary hands tonight which had been pressed by thousands during the day as his train sped through North Carolina and Virginia.

Once the President got off, stretched his legs and mounted the engine to see Engineer N. S. Huerter, who proudly exhibited his locomotive with its gilded American eagle on the headlight.

"I am not climbing backward," admonished Engineer Hunter.

"I hate to back out of anything," laughed the President, as he descended.

The President had given orders not to have the train make any unnecessary stops, but it ran slowly through scores of villages, where big crowds cheered as they caught a glimpse of the President. There was one exception to the rule. The President requested a stop at Culpepper, Va., the home of Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U.S.N., the President's physician and constant companion. Dr. Grayson said through train had not stopped there in five years.

"The whole town will be there," he told the President, "and I don't want to see you there."

When the train did stop at Culpepper, there was only one man at the station, and it was very dark.

"Do you know anyone in the crowd?" asked the President, solemnly.

"Oh, yes," replied the doctor, somewhat craftily, "that's Cooney Hanesborough—but he meets all trains, anywhere."

He insisted there surely would have been a crowd if it was known the train would stop.

At Extington, Va., the President gave the feminine contingent at the station a basket of flowers. The woman to whom he gave them was last night at her home and then committed suicide. Schall until recently was a street car conductor and Mrs. Stone was his landlady.

THREE POWERS ARE IN ACCORD.

France, England, Germany Await Wilson's Action.

Diaz Can't Stay Much Longer on American Warship.

What to Do With Him Is Now Worring Bryan.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Three European nations, Great Britain, Germany and France, have agreed to adopt a new policy toward Mexico until the government of the United States can submit for their consideration a definite plan for the future treatment of the revolution-torn republic.

That a request of the powers to wait a proposal regarding Mexico from the government had been made and that the three great European nations had yielded to the request, was announced late today by Secretary Bryan. President Wilson was en route to Washington from the South when the announcement was made and the Secretary did not indicate what would be the nature of the contemplated negotiations with the foreign governments. The President arrived here late tonight and planned to confer early tomorrow with Bryan.

When the note to the powers is to be decided only temporarily, but the belief prevails that reasonable time will be given for the announcement from the Huerta government in Mexico of a new President had been made and that the three great European nations had yielded to the request, was announced late today by Secretary Bryan. President Wilson was en route to Washington from the South when the announcement was made and the Secretary did not indicate what would be the nature of the contemplated negotiations with the foreign governments. The President arrived here late tonight and planned to confer early tomorrow with Bryan.

Discusses Diaz's Flight. Although interest in this development overtook all other news of the day here, the flight of Gen. Felix Diaz from Vera Cruz to refuge on the American warship Louisiana, was much discussed. Rear-Admiral Fletcher was notified tonight by Secretary Bryan that political refugees could be shielded only temporarily.

Admiral Fletcher, who is in command of the American ships in Mexican waters, notified Washington early today that Diaz, with two Mexican companions and an American newspaperman, had been granted the right of refuge on the Louisiana.

The admiral asked for instructions as to their disposition. The State Department instructed him to inquire of the Mexican refugees where they wished to go. Later the department was informed that they wished to be transferred from the American vessel.

It was placed aboard a commercial liner bound for Havana or New York, as they choose.

It was here tonight that Diaz and his friends would ask to be placed aboard an American-bound ship and that until such disposition was made of them, Admiral Fletcher would permit them to remain aboard one of the United States ships in Mexican waters.

That all the foreign nations are looking to the United States to take the initiative in the future treatment of Mexico is certain, and the situation presented makes it imperative that this government submit a plan.

The United States requested the powers to await a proposal several days ago and since that time the note has been in preparation.

The speculation as to what is to be proposed, but it is declared to be certain that whatever plan is submitted will demand the elimination of Huerta and the government which arose after the revolt against Madero, and provide for constitutional election in Mexico which can be recognized by the United States.

ACT IN GOOD FAITH. With Great Britain, Germany and France joining the United States in a demand for Diaz's resignation and the holding of a free and fair election, it has been asserted confidentially here that Huerta is in authority here and that new government would be established without intervention. This would necessitate a cessation of all hostilities and co-operation on the part of Mexican revolutionists.

The State Department received the request late in the day and tonight was making plans to accede to it.

SUGGESTS DONS READ IT. WILSON'S SPEECH "NIFTY." (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union, telegraphed the President tonight that the Latin-American diplomats at the Southern Commercial Congress had been profoundly impressed by his Mobile speech.

Barrett suggested that the full text of the address be sent to all legations and embassies in Central and South America by the State Department.

BURN RAILROAD STOCK. DESTRUCTION AT MONTEREY. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—The rebels who attacked Monterey last week held possession of the railroad yards and steel works for three days before being driven back by the Federal troops. They burned 250 railroad cars, destroyed several locomotives and set fire to the four mills, but left the steel works undamaged.

HUNT THIEF IN AUTO. Massachusetts Calvary Captures Man Who Stole Horse from Former Governor of Philippines. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DEDHAM (Mass.) Oct. 28.—The Donahy Society for the Apprehension of Horse Thieves abandoned today methods in vogue in the society for the past years. When W. Cameron Forbier, former Governor-General of the Philippines, reported that a horse had been stolen from his stable the society has been renewed for its hard-riding members, turned out in full force in automobiles, recovered the horse and captured a man supposed to have stolen it.

work lies in the regeneration of New York State, as shown by his declaration of a nomination for Congress in a district he undoubtedly could have carried and by his acceptance of the nomination for Assemblyman of the Sixth District, he does not disguise his belief that the fight he is making will have an effect nationally as well as locally.

"Great as New York is," he observed, "it is after all but a single State in the Union. Political crime and political grafting have no boundaries. The powers that prey have looted and are looting other communities just as they have done and are doing in New York. Through the example the people will make of Tammany in New York City they will encourage the movement for reform elsewhere.

Falling Off. STEEL EARNINGS SHOW DECREASE.

TRADE REPORTS PREDICT A MODERATE RECESSION.

Receipts, However, Are Considerably in Excess of Those for Same Period of Last Year—Usual Dividends on Preferred and Common Stock Are Declared.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the third quarter of the calendar year, issued today, show a marked decrease compared with the preceding quarter, but are far in excess of the corresponding quarter in 1912. Exclusive of interest on outstanding bonds of subsidiary companies, earnings were $4,912,851, total income $5,450,000. These figures are from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 under recent estimates and compare with $45,721,632 and $41,219,813, respectively, for the June quarter. The gain in earnings and total income over the third quarter of last year, in round figures, to $3,500,000. Surplus for the quarter is $1,545,778, against $12,618,845 in June and $2,454,003 in the third quarter of last year.

Analyzing the earnings of July, August and September, it is seen that none of these months compared favorably with the three months of the second quarter.

The usual dividends were declared, 1 1/2 per cent on the preferred shares and 1 1/4 per cent on the common, involving an outlay of $12,688,708.

The total assets of the corporation for the quarter ending September 30 were $58,450,400, and the net income for the quarter, $2,522,154.

DISCLOSE KRUPP METHODS. Trial of Former Director of Company in Berlin Brings Out Information of Contracts.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The premeditated disclosure of the methods of working adopted by the Krupp Armament Company in order to obtain an insight into the German government's pending contracts were partly disclosed this morning at the resumption of the trial of Otto Eeckes and Brandt, a former director and Berlin representative, respectively, for the Krupp concern.

Von Metzen, who formerly was a German army officer, was in the employ of the Krupp for ten years. He had been sent on several responsible missions to France, Belgium, Portugal and Italy. He said on the witness stand today that he had withheld his correspondence with the firm for the purpose of using it in suing Krupp on account of his dismissal from the service.

DENIES STORY OF DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Eaton Ends Testimony in the Murder Trial.

Fate of the Accused Woman May Be Known Tonight.

Defense to Take Two Hours for the Closing Plea.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PLYMOUTH (Mass.) Oct. 20.—All evidence in the trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with poisoning her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, had been completed when the afternoon session closed today and the fate of Mrs. Eaton probably will be in the hands of the jury before tomorrow night.

William A. Morse will occupy two hours of the morning session with his argument in favor of the acquittal of his client.

District Attorney Barker's plea for conviction is expected to be ended in time for Chief Justice Alken to read his charge to the jury before adjournment.

The widow of the naval officer has been on trial since October 14, the prosecution having occupied seven days and the defense four in the presentation of testimony. She completed her own evidence, both in direct and in cross-examination about noon, apparently undisturbed by her ordeal of two days and a half on the stand. Under cross-examination she contradicted some of the statements made by witnesses for the prosecution including those of her daughter, Dorothy, and her mother, Mrs. Harriet Eaton. Before the defense closed, a medical expert, Dr. Arthur B. Austin of Boston, testified that in his opinion the poison which killed the naval officer was taken at or after the noon meal, Wednesday, March 6, and that it was placed in one glass.

Mrs. Eaton on that day was visiting in Medford according to witnesses for both the state and the defense.

In rebuttal for the prosecution this afternoon, Dr. Harry F. Cleverly of Scituate, testified that Mrs. Eaton and the admiral brought a child to his office in August, 1910, and that he diagnosed the illness as cholera infantum. The child died the next day.

Dr. Cleverly denied the statement of Mrs. Eaton that she offered him $1000 if he would cure the child.

One of the last witnesses was Charles R. Henry, a workman at Norwell, who said he saw Admiral Eaton three days before his death, and that he appeared in good spirits. He admitted under cross-examination by the defense that on Wednesday Mrs. Eaton was starting for Boston he heard the admiral say: "There goes a lovely woman."

There goes a lovely woman.

"What a Glorious View!"

THE fortunate dweller at beautiful Beverly Hills hears this exclamation from each new guest as they get their first glimpse of mountain range and valley from the vantage point of his vine-covered pergola.

We have always contended that a man who could afford to build a fine home in California should not be satisfied with an average "town-lot" view when it was possible to combine favorable location with a magnificent outlook.

A Beverly Hills view is typical of California, with the ever-changing, unfathomable, mysterious mountains forming a natural background on the one side and the green valleys stretching away to the sea on the other.

Mother's Friend in Every Home

Comfort and Safety Assured Before the Arrival of the Storm.

In thousands of American homes there is a bottle of Mother's Friend that has aided many a woman through the trying ordeal, saved her from suffering and pain, kept her in health in advance of baby's coming, and had a wonderful influence in developing a lovely disposition in the child.

There is no other remedy so truly a help to nature. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant those fibres and muscles which nature is expending and soothes the inflammation of breast glands.

Mother's Friend is an external remedy, and not only banishes all distress in advance, but assures a prompt recovery for the mother. Thus she becomes a healthy woman with all her strength preserved to thoroughly enjoy the bearing of her child.

Mother's Friend can be had at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle. Write to Broadfield, Regulator Co., 228 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their free book. Write to-day. It is most instructive.

THIS NEGRO HOODOOED.

Tried Three Times to Become a Real Burglar and Each Time He Failed.

An unidentified and untraced negro met a hoodoo at No. 523 Rush street yesterday when he tried three times to break into the house at that address. He made the first attempt and was driven away. Then he ran into the street and changed his coat inside out. His luck didn't turn with his coat, for when he came back with the reversed garment he was again shoed off.

Next he went out and tossed his left shoe over his right shoulder, stuffed up the fur of his rabbit's foot and came back again, after trying his rabbit's foot in a conspicuous place around his neck.

And again he was repulsed. Then he left. The first time he was seen by L. B. McKinnis, the second time by W. L. Bennett, and the third time both saw him, for they were waiting.

How to Make the Best Cough Remedy at Home

A Family Supply at Small Cost, and Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and 1/4 pint of water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of pure Pinex (50¢ cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils, takes a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold at once instantly, and will usually conquer an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It tones up the faded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, bronchial asthma, whooping cough and spasmodic croup.

This method of making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is now used in more homes than any other cough syrup. This explains why it is often imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, you only genuine Pinex, which is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in quinine and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

For Hairy Growth

(Helps to Beauty)

A single application of a paste made by mixing together a little powdered delatone and water and applied to objectionable hairs for about 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off, takes with it every trace of hair or fuzz. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining paste and it will be firm and spotless. This is a quick, painless treatment, but its success depends greatly on using fresh delatone, which can be purchased only in original packages. [Advertisement.]

EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL IN THE CITY PRISON.

Erving One, Who Says Her Father Is a Miner in Arizona, Arrested on Charge of Defending Local Stores—Is a Linguist of Ability and Evidently Cultured.

Miss Alma Bergman, 18 years old, apparently refined, and a linguist of ability, is in the City Jail on a charge of having obtained goods under false pretenses. The young woman, who has recently worked as a governess in the family of Dr. T. M. Lynn at No. 2508 West Ninth street, was arrested yesterday as she prepared to take a train for San Francisco.

Talking last night of the impulse which, she said, prompted her to obtain goods from downtown stores through misrepresentations, the young woman attributed it to love of the clothes. Accustomed at one time to plenty of money, she could not reconcile herself to changed conditions. Her father, Olaf Bergman, she said, is a miner who makes his headquarters at Phoenix, Ariz. Each year since she was 12 years old he sent his daughter a sum sufficient to defray her expenses, but this year, fortune failed to smile on Bergman and the expected money was not forthcoming.

Arriving in Los Angeles from Portland, Or., the girl obtained a position as governess in the family of Dr. Lynn, three months ago. Since that time she has on various occasions gone to stores and obtained wearing apparel on the strength of her representation that she was Mrs. Lynn.

"I shall make no effort to escape the consequences of what I have done," Miss Bergman said last night. "I suppose I realized at the time that I was liable to arrest, but I obeyed the impulse anyway. I somehow do not believe that I am a bad girl, despite appearances that are against me."

Miss Bergman's case presents unusual features. It appears that she deliberately turned to crime to obtain what she felt she was unable to obtain honestly, yet, on the other hand, she is known to have deprived herself of many articles of wearing apparel in order that a cousin in the East might have clothing to go to school.

According to the story told by the girl last night in the matrons' quarters at Central Police station, she was arrested in Portland about a year ago on a similar charge and was permitted to go after paying for the clothes she had taken.

Questioned as to her aims and ambitions in life the young woman said she had tried to become a nurse. Ever since she was 12 years old, according to her story, she attended school during the winter and worked during the summer. Her father, she said, assumed no obligations other than to keep her in clothing.

The only thing wrong I ever did in my life," she declared, "was to get clothes when I needed them. I have not been to the Vernon County Club, the detectives intimate, nor do I associate with the class of people they talk about.

Miss Bergman was arrested by operatives of the Burns detective agency.

Miss Alice Bergman.

Arrested yesterday after having obtained wearing apparel from downtown stores through misrepresentations. She scores subterfuge, according to her story, and says she realized the probable consequences of her acts beforehand.

MADDOO DEMANDS WHISTLES.

Boatmen on Lake Tahoe Are Prosecuted for Not Having Standard Fog Warnings.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Only until recently did the boatmen who ply their navigation trade on Lake Tahoe discover that they are in the United States and amenable to its laws. Being an interstate lake—partly in California and partly in Nevada—jurisdiction of its waters is in the hands of the Federal government.

Although there are a large number of power boats on Lake Tahoe, no move has ever been made upon the part of the Federal authorities to enforce the customs regulations requiring the power boats to be registered and to comply with life-saving requirements until a few months ago.

Shortly after Collector of Customs Davis took office he sent a customs inspector to Lake Tahoe to make a special report on the situation. The result was that heavy fines were assessed against offending boatmen. The boatmen made representations that they were not aware that they were amenable to the Federal navigation laws; in fact, they said that they supposed that the State laws governed in inland lakes.

One man was fined $250 because he had no bell or siren which he could use as a warning in case of fog. His reply was that he had been a boatman on Lake Tahoe for twenty years and had never seen a fog.

All things considered, Collector Davis recommended that the fines be nominal. The department has just made returns on twenty-five cases of violations of navigation regulations. Fines which, automatically applied, ranged as high as $500 were reduced to $5.

RANSDELL ASKS ACTION BY MOBILE CONGRESS.

Representative of Peru Calls Attention to Needs of Latin America and Says This Government Should Follow Policy of Europe in Acquiring Their Needs.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MOBILE (Ala.) Oct. 28.—Two speakers at sessions of the Southern Commercial Congress emphasized today the necessity for the American business man to become better acquainted with the needs of the people of Latin America.

John M. Parker, honorary president of the congress, declared: "Our merchants should offer these people what they want and not what we think they should have." Senor Federico Alfonso Paez, representing Peru, said America should send men into Latin America to ascertain what was needed there. Europe's success in trade with Latin America, he attributed to the knowledge of European merchants of Latin-American conditions.

The first convention of the women's auxiliary to the congress was opened today. The delegates adopted a resolution putting the organization on record as opposed to an amendment to the Federal Constitution, granting women the vote and in favor of "State's rights" in woman suffrage.

The morning session was enlivened by a resolution offered by United States Senator Ransdell of Louisiana in which it was provided that the United States Congress be urged to investigate the Colombian claims that the Panama Canal zone was acquired improperly by the United States.

His resolution was referred to a committee. Tonight was Pan-American night, featured by a "diplomatic dinner" early in the evening, and followed by a programme of speeches by Central and South American representatives. At the dinner were represented Costa Rica, Bolivia, Peru, Panama, Brazil and Argentina. That bonds of friendship between the United States and countries of South and Central America were sure to be strengthened by the Panama Canal influence, seemed to be the opinion of all the speakers.

John Temple Graves of New York urged upbuilding of the American merchant marine and advocated a larger navy to protect the Panama Canal.

Make Issue of Negro.

who regard the uplift of the negro as a race as a part of the "white man's burden" in this country, and the lower millstone, composed of those who never will consent to his uplift to any standard which imposes or implies a political or social standing of equality with the white race.

As the southern statesmen who take the latter stand are in the saddle in Congress and the President is dependent upon them for the success of his legislative programme, the delicate situation which confronts him is understood.

ANOTHER PHASE.

There is another phase of the general situation which must be borne in mind concerning the negro in the governmental service. Washington is essentially in a southern atmosphere. It has a negro population of nearly 100,000, the largest of any city in the land. "Jim Crow" legislation boils up in Congress as often as in any southern Legislature and the disposition of the average government clerk in Washington of whom there are more than 25,000, is to resent the introduction of a negro in the office in which they serve. The fact that the negro practically would control the balance of political power in Washington is one of the reasons why the citizens of the national capital are denied the right of suffrage.

The President has maintained a discreet silence. There is no doubt that prior to his election he let his personal views be known to the extent that the negro leaders who went out in his support believed their race would receive a square deal.

As a result of the silence with which the administration is treating the negro question there has grown up a system of "segregation" in the department which has risen to the dignity of being called a "policy." As a result of the fact the administration has no policy and the cases of "segregation" are sporadic.

Specific instances which have affected the standing of negroes in office may be summarized as follows: The nomination of Adam E. Patterson of Oklahoma, a negro, to be register of the treasury, an office long held by those of his race, was withdrawn at the request of Patterson after it was certain the nomination would be rejected by the Senate.

An Indian, Gabe E. Parker of Oklahoma, was appointed and confirmed August 10.

White men have been appointed Minister to Hayti and the Dominican Republic, posts long held by colored men.

In the Treasury Department signs reading "For Colored only" placed in lavatories reserved for colored employees, have been removed.

In the dead letter office in the Post-office Department the colored employees are assembled in one corner of a room screened off from the general public by lockers.

It is explained that the lockers were so placed to improve the ventilation, but no explanation is made of the fact that only colored employees are working behind the screen.

In the Bureau of Engraving and Printing the colored employees have been given a lunchroom, lavatory and toilet room all in one. The white employees have had a separate lunchroom for years.

In the Postoffice Department no lunchroom is provided for colored employees, the argument being that as there are no separate negro restaurants in Washington, the government is not bound to provide one.

TO SUBPOENA TAMMANY MEN.

Atty. Whitman Seeks Truth in Graft Case.

Murphy's Statement Answers
Attacks by Sulzer.

Accusations Made by Deposed Governor.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A dozen subpoenas were issued at the District attorney's office late today calling, it was stated, for the appearance of those believed to have knowledge of the alleged in statements made by Edward E. McCall, the Tammany candidate for Mayor.

These men are said to have been mentioned to Asst. Dist. Atty. Clark by Hennessy, graft investigator, while the latter was Governor and new campaign speaker for the Tammany ticket headed by "Pursey" Mitchell for Mayor, as well as Sulzer, who is a conservative candidate for the Assembly. Hennessy was the first to be examined in this inquiry. He completed his story at his conference with Mr. Clark today and will be examined further tomorrow. Among the subjects of inquiry is a $10,000 contribution mentioned by Sulzer as having been offered by Anthony N. Brady, capitalist, through the Samuel A. Beardsley, Sulzer denied he rejected this money and it was then sent to Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. Murphy last night said he received the money but returned it to Mr. Murphy. The latter has since died.

The outcome of Hennessy's statements was a request by the prosecutor that City Magistrate McAdoo to "John Doe" proceedings on today at the conclusion of which McAdoo will submit a report from which the prosecutor will determine whether he shall submit matter to the grand jury. Charles F. Murphy gave out a long statement last night in reply to the charges recently made by William Sulzer. Of the accusations uttered by Sulzer in his campaign speeches in newspapers, all but one are denied by the Tammany Hall leader. The contribution of $10,000, Sulzer said he rejected the money subsequently went to Murphy, who he declared, had made the money. The story, it is said, was received the money from Murphy, but returned it to Mr. Murphy the following day. Mr. Brady was in London last spring, several of the incidents mentioned by Sulzer.

In his statement, Sulzer emphasized the fact that he did not make charges before the court. He repeated his statement after the demands of Edward E. McCall, Tammany Hall candidate for Governor, again reiterated last night at an uptown meeting many of the statements contained in the "Epoch." The speaker prepared to deal with the charges with former Senator Sullivan, but displayed a volume which contained, he declared, the transcript of Sullivan's statement to him in "Singing Green." The story, it is said, was by means of a telephone de-

STRAIGHT TO THE SEA OR ROUNDABOUT WAY?

A T AN enthusiastic meeting attended by 300 members of the "Pico-to-the-Sea Association" in Odd Fellows Hall, Pico and El Molino streets, last night, representatives of the various organizations interested in the proposed "direct" and "wishbone" routes, voiced at length the sentiments of their constituents and urged bringing the proposed routes to speedy realization. Among the speakers were Chairman Pridham of the Board of Supervisors and Supervisor Hinchshaw, who emphasized the fact that it is all-important that suitable routes to the sea be completed as quickly as possible. He has heretofore committed himself to the direct route from the present terminus of Pico street via Fremont avenue, Santa Monica. The appearance of Carl Schader on the platform was the occasion of much applause, and his remarks were enthusiastically endorsed by the large delegation which voiced his sentiments. The direct or "spine" route, as Schader termed it, he declared to be the most logical possible, and the one conducive to the most good, not only to the taxpayers directly interested, but to Southern California as well. He believes that with the "spine" boulevard perfected, the "ribs" or other lines can easily be laid out whenever desirable. At the conclusion of his remarks, Schader was cheered and his statements were endorsed by several of the succeeding speakers. The "direct route" had the better of it. John D. Reavis was chairman of the meeting.

INTERESTING SUBJECTS THERE. Subjects of interest to the real estate men of the city will be discussed at the Realty Board meeting at Christy's tomorrow noon. "Ocean-to-Ocean Highway—Los Angeles to New York," will be the subject of an address by John S. Mitchell, a member of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, and a dynamic force in the great work. Frank H. Snyder, a newcomer to Los Angeles from Indiana, will talk on "The Permanency of Los Angeles Values as Viewed by a Newcomer," and John P. Carter, collector of Internal Revenue, will speak on "Operation of the Income Tax."

SKY CLEARING FOR CHARITIES.

INDORSEMENT OF OLD SOCIETY ENCOURAGES WORKERS.

Distribution of Bethlehem Institute Property Will Be Submitted Today for Approval of Judge McCormick—Bathhouse Goes to the City.

Indorsement of the Associated Charities under its new regime, and of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, and of the Coleman House Association, provisionally, were some of the questions which came before the Municipal Charities Commission at its meeting yesterday. The receipt of the plan of the Bethlehem Benevolent Board for the disposition of the property formerly operated under the name of the Bethlehem Institute, was another important matter which received attention, as it marked the passing of a settlement work which has had a somewhat checkered career.

The plan proposed by the board includes the acquisition by the city of the bathhouse, to be operated by the city for the benefit of the poor of the neighborhood. The Associated Charities will take over and administer the hotel and restaurant and dispensary. The church property will be retained for the disposition of the property formerly operated under the name of the Bethlehem Institute, was another important matter which received attention, as it marked the passing of a settlement work which has had a somewhat checkered career.

HOLY HIRAM IS PUT TO SHAME

FUND FULLY RAISED AND LOCAL SUBSCRIBERS ASKED BY THE MERCHANTS' AND MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION TO SEND IN THEIR CHECKS AT ONCE.

The forty-five citizens of Los Angeles who so gallantly jumped into the breach to save the proposed Yuma bridge across the Colorado River, after Holy Hiram had vetoed the bill calling for an appropriation of $25,000 by the State, will today receive a letter from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, calling in the checks at once.

The bridge will cost $75,000 and will be paid for as follows: United States government, $25,000; State of Arizona, $25,000; Los Angeles business men, $7500; San Diego business men, $7500; Imperial county, $7500; Yuma Commercial Club, $2500.

Inasmuch as the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association without question guaranteed this city's share of the fund, it is looked to for its payment. Secretary Zeeland, after yesterday received a letter from the County Clerk of Imperial county, enclosing a resolution by the Board of Supervisors, a copy of a letter from Gov. Hunt of Arizona, and an opinion of F. E. Bullard, Attorney-General of Arizona, the latter is rendered to the Governor in response to a question as to whether the Arizona State appropriation will be available, should Imperial county pay the $25,000 instead of the State of California. His opinion, in brief, is, that as soon as Imperial county, or any portion of California, transmits the amount to the State Treasurer of Arizona, a warrant for the Arizona State Treasurer for the construction of the bridge.

Haste is urged in the matter and a letter was at once addressed to each subscriber to the fund requesting that their check be sent at once to the Treasurer of Imperial county and by him transmitted to the Treasurer of Arizona.

DYNAMITE BOMB INDICATES PLOT.

POLICE DISCOVER CACHE ON SOUTH OLIVE STREET.

Investigation Begins at Midnight in Hope That Capture of Anarchist Who Made Destroyer Will Be Expedited Before Designs Are Accomplished.

An infernal machine containing a mixture of nitroglycerine and sawdust, with a dynamite cap and fuse attached, was found on the sidewalk between Tenth and Eleventh on Olive street shortly after midnight.

Suspicion of a plot were aroused by O. J. Felling, who first found a dynamite cap at Pico and Hill streets. Later he discovered the infernal machine, an oblong box, and reported the matter to the police.

Lieut. Adams ordered the police to bring the infernal machine to Central Station, where it was carefully examined.

Making sure that there was no time-lock arrangement whereby the bomb might be set off during the night, the police locked it in a fireproof safe, where it will be kept until this morning.

It will today be further examined and probably exploded in the river bed. The bomb, so far as the external appearance is concerned, is not unlike the one sent to Gen. Harrison Gray Otis through the mails a short time since.

Felling, the man who found the dangerous box, is a Merchant's police officer.

MEMBER OF DREW FAMILY.

Prominent Insurance Man's Wife Dies; Daughter of One of Lincoln's Indian Traders.

Margaret Drew McConnell, 48 years of age, wife of W. L. McConnell, general agent for Southern California and Arizona of the Frankfort General Insurance Company, died at the family residence, No. 188 Oak Terrace, Garvanza, last night after a prolonged illness. She was indirectly related to the John Drew family.

Mrs. McConnell was born in Evansville, Ind., her father being the late Col. Cyrus King Drew, who for years occupied the post of Indian trader under Lincoln's administration.

Mrs. McConnell was educated in the public schools of Evansville, Ind., and the Louquet Leroy Seminary, New Orleans. She was an accomplished musician. After leaving the seminary she was married in New Orleans in 1891.

With her husband, who brought her here for her health, and accompanied by her three children, she came to Los Angeles in October, 1910, the family locating on Alvarado street.

Although the family of aristocratic breeding and of social prominence in the East, Mrs. McConnell was not active socially here because of her health, which her family was striving to preserve.

She leaves the widower and the children, Douglas Drew McConnell, F. Britton McConnell and Margaret Drew McConnell.

Funeral arrangements will be made today on the arrival here of the oldest son, a student at Berkeley, Miss Mary K. Drew, a sister, resides with the McConnell family, as does McConnell's sister, Miss Carrie.

DISCUSS CHILD WELFARE.

Eight Hundred Teachers Begin Annual Four-Day Institute at Orville. Visitors Cordially Entertained.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

OROVILLE (Cal.) Oct. 28.—With approximately 800 teachers in attendance, the Northern California Teachers' Association opened the annual four-day institute here today.

"Conservation of our boys and girls is vastly more important than the conservation of natural resources about which we hear so much," declared the president of the association, Dr. Preston W. Search, "The Best Thing in Education."

A reception and call to the visitors were given tonight by citizens and teachers of Oroville in the exposition building. More teachers are expected tomorrow.

PERSONALS.

The winter tourists—that is, the less rigorous climate than the one arriving at Los Angeles during the cold season—prepared to remain here the winter. The flowers are in bloom here. Among recent arrivals is a young man, a banker and a capitalist of Portsmouth, N. H., who has come here a number of years ago. He is a banker and a capitalist of Portsmouth, N. H., who has come here a number of years ago. He is a banker and a capitalist of Portsmouth, N. H., who has come here a number of years ago.

Compelled by turbulent conditions in Mexico to travel 3000 miles to get to their homes, only eighty miles away, eight Mexican girls passed through this city yesterday afternoon on the last lap of their strange three-thousand-mile trip from Guaymas to Hermosillo.

They are refugees from Colegio Occidental in Guaymas and they are accompanied by three of the college faculty, Rev. and Mrs. Frank Marra and Mrs. Laura Cox. For more than four months Rev. and Mrs. Marra have endeavored to get away from Guaymas, which has been the center of almost senseless warfare.

The girls all live in or near Hermosillo, eighty miles from Guaymas. They are Anita Burrola, Amelia Duran, Ruth Burrola, Juanita Gonzalez, Maria Luisa Llanos, Anita Burrola, Maria Meneses, Rosario Rodriguez, and Maria Luisa Llanos.

The college, which is affiliated with the University of California, has been conducted by the Marra family for about ten years and, under normal conditions, has seventy-five to eighty students. Events of the past year have made the situation so dangerous that the college work has been entirely suspended and nearly all the students have been sent to their homes.

Last spring, Principal Marra recognized the danger of remaining longer in the city and decided to send the remaining girls to their homes and come, with the Marra family, to Los Angeles. Difficulties in the way of putting his purpose into operation proved insurmountable.

Federal troops held Guaymas at all times but practically every avenue from the city was guarded and guarded by the army. All efforts to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo were frustrated. Marra tried to secure transportation for his party on one of the American government steamships, but was unable to do so and they were obliged to remain, with other Guaymas people who were also unable to leave.

At last, fighting waged furiously in the city, they were able to get away. They were able to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo. They were able to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo. They were able to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo.

Two distinguished visitors to Mexico, well known here and the fact that their families reside here a portion of the year, are at the hotel. They are a Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Garcia, wealthy sugar planters and land owners of Mazatlan.

Hon. Samuel F. Barr of Arizona, accompanied by his daughter, a guest at the Westminister. He was formerly a member of the Arizona Legislature and is well known in the politics of that State. It is his purpose to remain here over the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hanna of Globe, Ariz., are passing a portion of their winter at the Westminister. Mr. Hanna is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Odegard of Chicago are staying at the same hotel. Odegard is a manufacturer of uniforms and is here on an annual visit. He is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

W. H. Bryant, connected with the legal department of the city of Denver, is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Druhl of Lake City are guests at the same hotel. Druhl is interested in the wool and drug business.

R. A. Muldoon, not related to the great exponent of physical perfection but in the silk importing business with headquarters in San Francisco, is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

Sullivan, a mining man of Fresno, is a guest at the same hotel.

Compelled by turbulent conditions in Mexico to travel 3000 miles to get to their homes, only eighty miles away, eight Mexican girls passed through this city yesterday afternoon on the last lap of their strange three-thousand-mile trip from Guaymas to Hermosillo.

They are refugees from Colegio Occidental in Guaymas and they are accompanied by three of the college faculty, Rev. and Mrs. Frank Marra and Mrs. Laura Cox. For more than four months Rev. and Mrs. Marra have endeavored to get away from Guaymas, which has been the center of almost senseless warfare.

The girls all live in or near Hermosillo, eighty miles from Guaymas. They are Anita Burrola, Amelia Duran, Ruth Burrola, Juanita Gonzalez, Maria Luisa Llanos, Anita Burrola, Maria Meneses, Rosario Rodriguez, and Maria Luisa Llanos.

The college, which is affiliated with the University of California, has been conducted by the Marra family for about ten years and, under normal conditions, has seventy-five to eighty students. Events of the past year have made the situation so dangerous that the college work has been entirely suspended and nearly all the students have been sent to their homes.

Last spring, Principal Marra recognized the danger of remaining longer in the city and decided to send the remaining girls to their homes and come, with the Marra family, to Los Angeles. Difficulties in the way of putting his purpose into operation proved insurmountable.

Federal troops held Guaymas at all times but practically every avenue from the city was guarded and guarded by the army. All efforts to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo were frustrated. Marra tried to secure transportation for his party on one of the American government steamships, but was unable to do so and they were obliged to remain, with other Guaymas people who were also unable to leave.

At last, fighting waged furiously in the city, they were able to get away. They were able to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo. They were able to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo. They were able to get away from Guaymas to Hermosillo.

Two distinguished visitors to Mexico, well known here and the fact that their families reside here a portion of the year, are at the hotel. They are a Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Garcia, wealthy sugar planters and land owners of Mazatlan.

Hon. Samuel F. Barr of Arizona, accompanied by his daughter, a guest at the Westminister. He was formerly a member of the Arizona Legislature and is well known in the politics of that State. It is his purpose to remain here over the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hanna of Globe, Ariz., are passing a portion of their winter at the Westminister. Mr. Hanna is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Odegard of Chicago are staying at the same hotel. Odegard is a manufacturer of uniforms and is here on an annual visit. He is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

W. H. Bryant, connected with the legal department of the city of Denver, is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister. He is a guest at the Westminister.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Druhl of Lake City are guests at the same hotel. Druhl is interested in the wool and drug business.

In the most remarkable flight from Mexico.

The Mexican girls are refugees from Colegio Occidental in Guaymas and arrived in this city safely, en route to their homes, eighty miles from Guaymas, after four months of perils and hardships. From left to right they are Ruth Burrola, Esther Pardo, Maria Luisa Llanos, Anita Burrola, Maria Meneses, Rosario Rodriguez, Amelia Burrola and Juanita Gonzalez. Below are Rev. Frank Marra, principal of the college, now closed, and Mrs. Marra. They have worked unceasingly for months to protect their little charges and are now on their way to Hermosillo with them.

Greetings.

MANY WELCOME GREAT LINER.

Congress Meets Plaudits of Eager Thousands.

Maiden Trip of Coastwise Leviathan Here.

Million and a Half Dollars the Cost.

All San Pedro, with thousands of others from this city and the beach towns, greeted the mammoth liner Congress on her maiden arrival at this harbor yesterday from Seattle.

From Point Firmin to the wharf of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, the $1,500,000 vessel underwent the approving surveillance of thousands and then again thousands, many of whom saw in her the visible symbol of greater days for the harbor, days when the opening of the Panama Canal will bring the lofty galleons of many nations into this port.

Four special Pacific Electric trains carried 1500 specially-invited representatives of the official and traffic world to greet and inspect the truly greatest of all coastwise vessels. Included were members of the City Council, the Harbor Commission, county officials, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic and quasi-civic bodies. Other special trains carried guests from Long Beach.

By fortuitous chance, the trains arrived at the harbor as the big vessel was standing in from the outer harbor, and the passengers had the appreciated opportunity of seeing the liner's majestic arrival, flags waving pennants flanking from masts and rigging, eager faces scanning the humanity-blackened wharves.

Trim of lines, bearing but a superficial resemblance to the coastwise vessels this port has known, the fore and aft masts of the Congress seemed to sweep the sea, her twin stacks were seemingly Cyclopean in size, her bulk almost dwarfed the harbor.

TEN THOUSAND GREET. As a thing mammoth, she was greeted in silence by the 10,000 well-comers, not with the expected plaudits. Slowly, impressively, the Congress warped inward toward her berthing at the wharf of the owning company, bells jangled far away, then close at hand, a snub-nosed tug came alongside and gently the big vessel settled against the wharf, ropes were made fast and the packed, jostling crowd at 2:10 p. m. had its first opportunity to see the big vessel in all its immensity.

CITY'S PIONEER PASTOR IS SIXTY YEARS WEDDED.

Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Wagner, Of this city, who will celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary next Saturday.

SIXTY years of united happiness will become a reality next Monday for Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Wagner of No. 2915 San Pedro street, who have been residents of Los Angeles for more than thirty years, and who founded the first Christian church in this city. They were married on November 3, 1853, in the little town of Buchanan, Mich., where Mr. Wagner at that time was editing the Berrian County Record, a publication which he founded and which today continues to come to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner are both natives of Indiana and it was this fact that attracted the struggling young newspaper publisher to the pretty Miss Mary Jane Roe, who was visiting in the Michigan town. Feeling the call to the ministry, Rev. Wagner prepared himself for this profession and enlisted in the work of the Christian church. For a time he was chaplain in the State prison of Wisconsin and then decided to come to Southern California.

In Los Angeles he organized the first church of his denomination and within three years ago was pastor of the Central Christian Church, at the corner of Maple and Thirty-first streets. He still holds the title of pastor emeritus and is the admiration of his former congregation. The sixty years of wedded life has been blessed by two daughters—Mrs. Lillian Plimpton and Mrs. R. C. Beckman—and an adopted daughter, Miss Lotta Wagner, who resides in San Francisco at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, who are only 75 and 73 years of age, respectively, will entertain their friends on this occasion when another decade has been added to their allotment of life. About 100 friends will take part in the celebration, which will be held at their home next Saturday evening.

Things Not Always What They Seem.

This is William Young.

And some of the things William did to the Police Department yesterday.

Scientific.

THINK BILL'S A THIEF? WRONG; HE'S A TORNADO.

THE police accuse Bill Young of being a thief and admit that he is a fighter. All unknown to the keepers of the peace, Bill came into the city several days ago, the proprietor of a fast and furious pair of fists and a self-starting temper. He never introduced himself to the police department until yesterday and when he did it left it dizzy.

He was noting about the U. S. Hotel when someone suspected him of following the calling of sneak thief. Patrolman Cline was called to verify the fact.

When Wild Willie Young saw the patrolman edging up on him he said, "Howdy, Pard," and then whispered an introduction with his fists. They flew so fast that Cline, looking up to watch, caught a left in his eye. That blacked that.

After a while and a struggle Young was taken to the detective department at Central Station. Cline's eye was on the rise.

While they were taking an inventory of Young's belongings the mas asked for a drink of water. As Cline handed it to him, he landed on Cline again. For variations of how he landed, see the pink sheet.

Grant Roberts tossed himself into the rift. Young caught him full in the fact.

Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: For the girl who is afflicted with blackheads there is a soap, prepared by one of the most reliable dermatologists in the United States. This remedy is harmless and effective in removing these blemishes.

The other day I was invited to visit the new quarters of a part of one of the big Broadway department stores. The contemplated removal of several departments to the new part of the establishment has given rise to special sales, which interest all housekeepers, and when the new quarters are opened there will be even more interest than heretofore, among the best and closest buyers.

The new half of the big store will be a magnificent floor space on the level of the street, but the most interesting feature is the underground, which will differ from that of any store in the city.

One of all, there will be two entrances directly from the street to the basement, or, rather, to the basement level, for this is what it will be. A great maze of passages will lead to several rooms, and the new feature is the use of the basement level, which is a world in itself.

Now the bargain buyers will revel in this place! You know how, when you achieve a bargain from a department store, you feel that you have found a treasure.

At first, the entire street floor will be used for toys, and what a glorious display the children will have! Most departments are tucked off by themselves in some upper story, and the children will have to go to the basement to find the toys.

Another feature of the new building is the way from one street to another, which will be a grand, airy, and comfortable way, and it will be a pleasure to see all the way, and more than that, something interesting to purchase.

LOS ANGELES (Loce Ahng-hay-ah)

Entered at the Postoffice as second class matter of Class II.

THE STRENGTH OF UNITY.
It takes three years to grant our largest railroad permission to build a passenger depot here, how long would it take us to agree on a ferry system as big as that at San Francisco.

INTERESTING.
The soldiers of the United States army are being vaccinated for typhoid. This serum does the work, but wouldn't it be lucky if our soldiers might have good water, fresh food and a climate like ours, so that typhoid germs would not have to be fought by an armed legion?

THE DANGER SIGNAL.
A Chicago robber was killed by a bullet in the hands of an intended woman victim. It is all right for highwaymen to be slain in this manner, but it might be unfair to make the practice of hatpin killing general on street cars and in church.

PRECIOUS.
This is the season of the moonflowers with their clear reflection of stainless skies. They are as blue as a golden-haired maiden's eyes or as the waters of a deep spring. Blue is the rarest color in flowers and perhaps the highest. It is seldom to be found and always to be cherished. Perhaps that is the difficult secret of the elusive blue rose.

THEY DESERVE IT.
In Russia photographers must secure a government license before they can operate. It would not be bad for some of us if the camera men were compelled to take an examination before they were turned loose upon the public. A man's reputation for beauty can certainly never rest in hands that are too skilled or kind, nor a woman's in those that are too flattering.

A POOLISH PROFESSOR.
A member of the faculty of Harvard went to the blackboard to demonstrate to the class in psychology that the feminine mind is more steadfast than the masculine. We had become accustomed to the Kipling idea that it was deadlier, but its adamantine quality was about to escape us. Probably this pedagogic has opposed his own wife on some such important issue as her fall suit or winter hat.

THE BIG VIEW.
Rockefeller has given Johns Hopkins University a million and a half dollars. All the doctors in the world could not get Rockefeller a new stomach, but he is glad to devote a vast fortune to a medical science that may help others. The greatest step a life can ever take is to be willing to turn around and help the man who has a chance in the face of what looks to be one's own irretrievable defeat.

THE IMPERSONATOR.
It is quite unfair in Julian Eltinge to turn a fascinating widow loose on a college campus, even though those happy hunting grounds are the free range of many pretty coeds. No man's peace of heart is safe with a widow in sight, and Eltinge, in giving us a man-made article, shows pretty well what a man's idea of a widow is likely to be. His role would be offensive if he did not take the audience into his confidence. Under the circumstances, it is merely droll.

FIGHTING BACK.
The militant students at Bristol University made an effective resort to the militant suffragettes. The English ladies who must vote or perish burned the sports pavilion of the students, and the young gentlemen retaliated by smashing in the windows of suffragette headquarters and making a bonfire of the suffragette furniture. It would be ungracious at this distance to say the obvious thing about fighting the devil with fire. Besides, whoever heard of the devil wearing skirts or rather, of any one who would admit it?

SHYLOCK IN THE NORTHWEST.
There is a fine opening in North Dakota for a rural credit bank. At present the lineal descendants of Shylock appear to be in power there. A farmer who obtained a loan of $1000 from a bank there was obliged to pay $50 bonus and 10 per cent. per annum interest, payable in advance. He executed a mortgage on his farm for $1000 and received from the bank $850, less expense of examining title and executing papers. That was over 17.5 per cent. for the use of the money for one year. With potatoes and wheat and corn on the free list, it will take a bumper crop to make that farmer even.

PAUL DUNBAR.
A poet, in whose veins ran pure negro blood, born of slave parents, obscure, without education or influence, made for himself a name widely honored as a singer of sweet songs. America recognizes him. Here is no sign of racial prejudice, of that worship of wealth and power, of that bowing to a material fetish, avowed by past-master critics to be leading national characteristics in the twentieth century. For unless the American people loved sweetness and melody, unless they were ready to admire a soul, no matter the color of the body, enfolding it, unless they were utterly unswayed by the pride of birth and position, they would not today honor the memory of Paul Dunbar, singer of negro folk songs.

A FLOWER SHOW FOR 1915.
A million or more tourists from all parts of the world will visit the two great fairs of California in 1915. Los Angeles, the most famous city in the West, holds the strategic position between San Francisco and San Diego; the visitors from both fairs will gather here until the crowds rival, and it may be, exceed those attracted by the international expositions. There are many remarkable things that have augmented the glory of Los Angeles and Southern California. The most obvious is the climate. And all the pamphlets, all the lectures and glowing descriptions of eloquent boosters speak less emphatically and convincingly of the ideal climate than does the silent language of the flowers. In no place else on earth could such a rare display of beautiful and variegated flowers be shown in profusion for twelve consecutive months. Because that is so, the co-operation of the whole of Southern California should be extended to the special committee appointed by the Los Angeles Horticultural Society which is working on a plan whereby this city will give a permanent floral and plant show during the year 1915.

Nothing so stupendous and noteworthy has ever been attempted before in the floral line on earth. The possibilities of such a display reach to the limits of the imagination. For it is to the person not acquainted with the resources and abundance of Southern California, inconceivable. Month after month the whole year through gorgeous blooms and delicate buds are woven by the fingers of the Seasons into a cycle garland to crown the fairest land in all the world. Roses burst from their bushes in radiant profusion; violets nestle in their shady nooks, sweet peas in myriad numbers burden the air with the aroma of their incense, and the happy faces of the wide-eyed pansies greet the sunbeams with a smile throughout all the days of the year. When Winter lays his robes across the Eastern States and puts his icy seal on brooks and lakes, then Southern California is as bright and gay as though it were springtime in Utopia, and the shag-headed chrysanthemums, resplendent with vivid colors, lift themselves proudly from the earth to claim attention—scorning the pampering care of hothouses.

To call all the flowers by name that bless this country with their perennial charms would be to exhaust a horticulturist's choicest vocabulary. London once screamed for fame by displaying floral beauties for three months at an enormous expense and with the most careful nurturing and forcing of plants. Los Angeles could make a display four times as long, infinitely more magnificent, and depend entirely on the spontaneous growth of the flowers. A floral exhibition of a magnitude that could easily be achieved would rival the greatest attraction of international fairs, for Los Angeles would do what had never been done before in this making a floral display for the entire world, and making it from the products of our own soil.

SEPARATE BOND PROPOSALS.
The City Council has rashly linked two separate and distinct bond propositions as one and, unless a wise reconsideration alters the plan, will submit another joint bond proposal for $4,500,000 to the voters of Los Angeles.

Fortunately it is not too late to change the form of the proposal, and The Times stands in more than good faith to the principle that the members of the City Council take cognizance of the danger and injustice of the plan upon which they have determined, and alter it so that the bond issues may be submitted in a manner that will enable citizens to vote on each proposition separately.

The most important of the bond issues is for $1,250,000 which will be used to complete the aqueduct power plant. Unless the power plant is completed the great expense and labor so far put into the plant will be nullified. Though the bond market seems beneath the load of municipal obligations dumped onto it from all parts of the United States, and though government bonds are selling 6 cents below par, the present exigencies, perhaps, sanction an additional bond issue for an amount that will complete the power plant.

The other project is the proposed bond issue for $2,250,000 to construct a power-distributing system. If such a system were absolutely essential to the city of Los Angeles it would still be inadvisable to vote the bonds at the present time, for the market is now burdened with securities for which there are no buyers, and it would be endangering the credit of Los Angeles to have it known that our bonds could not be sold. But inasmuch as there is no absolute need for another distributing system, since the light and power could be leased or sold at a profitable figure to private companies, it is a palpable error to offer so heavy a bond issue when bonds are so hard to sell; and it is positive folly to link such an issue with one that is separate, entirely different and with merit.

The citizens should be allowed to discriminate between the two projects. They should not be compelled to oppose or support two entirely different propositions with one and the same vote. That is rank unfairness.

A Needed Suggestion.

opposed. If the members of the City Council are amenable to the appeal of justice they will not hesitate to reconsider their decision and segregate the proposed bond issues in a manner that will enable the citizens to exercise their judgment and discrimination as they have the inalienable right to do. Unless this be done, both bond issues will probably fail and the loss to the city through the non-completion of the power plant will be enormous.

A RUBBER-STAMP GOVERNOR.
Atty-Gen. Webb has ruled that a rubber stamp signature of a Governor is a valid signature to any document to which the law requires the sign manual of the Governor to be affixed. If the Attorney-General will enlarge his ruling and decide that a rubber stamp can perform all the executive functions as well as a flesh-and-blood Governor, what a convenience and what a blessing it will be to persons having business with the executive.

A rubber stamp has, it is true, no star-board pediment with which it might kick Hermin and oil-burning locomotives, and Pullman cars, and service superintendents out of office. It has no generous-sized mouth, out of which it could hurl blabbery blabs of scorching rhetoric against all who refused to fall down and worship it. It has no unifying and unfriendly heart that would cause it to refuse to ride in the same auto or trolley car with a meanly, low-down, recalcitrant, old-guard, stand-pat Republican, who insisted on believing that Thomas Jefferson was a greater constructive statesman than Francis J. Henery, and that Abraham Lincoln was a wiser and better man than Toppius Earl.

Yet notwithstanding these deficiencies, the rubber stamp has many desirable qualities which Holy Hiram lacks. It would never have hastened to impress its signature upon a bill to take $3000 out of the State treasury to send three commissioners scurrying through the casinos of Europe to gather information concerning rural credit banks which a judicious investment of five cents in a copy of The Times would have given them. It would not have approved of a measure to imprison a clothing merchant who, in order to get the best of a rival, marked down 49 cents in Los Angeles a shirt that he sold in his Pasadena store for half a dollar. It would have scorned to give its approval to a bill which, in order to give a job to half a dozen henchmen, provided that the rubber stamp should appoint three water commissioners who knew as much about irrigation as a turkey gobbler knows about the Apocalypse and empower them to visit every water-using farmer and lunch and dine with him to the detriment of his poultry yard and question him and cross-question him as to the best of the man from whom he got it obtained it. The man from whom he got it obtained it and whether originally it was pumped from a well or fell from the clouds and where the well or the clouds got it, until the badgered farmer, bereft of reason by the queries of the $5000 per commissioner, laid himself down under his alfalfa stack and begged to be put out of his misery.

MORALITY, NOT EXPEDIENCY.
For fear that somebody might misunderstand or underestimate him our high-faluting poseur of a President, in speaking a piece to the Southern Commercial Congress at Mobile on Monday, declared in Pockettian phrase that his governing motive in dealing with the countries of this hemisphere would be "morality and not expediency."

He asserted that "material interests might influence the policy of foreign governments in their relations with the nations of Latin America." England might seek concessions for building railroads. Germany might have in view an enlarged market for Limburger cheese, and France look for factory sites and purchasers of glucose chart; but the United States (that's ME, says Woodrow) is seeking a market for its surplus stock of morality, incarnated in the person of Wilson, aforesaid.

In determining whether the Chief Executive of any Latin-American nation should be recognized by the United States the test would not be—is he acting as President? Do the courts and the Congress, the army and the navy of his country recognize him? But is he a moral man? Did he ever do anything wrong if he could help it? Is his check "made from early riot"? Has it ever "flushed with passion's hectic"? Can he spin the Ten Commandments off the reel and say the Lord's prayer backward and recite the Sermon on the Mount without batting an eye? If he can, and does not differ with me in interpreting the constitution of his own country, I will recognize him, otherwise I will not admit his existence for any purpose and will withdraw my countrymen from his benighted land—steering passage prepaid.

A FIRM STAND.
The National Association of Manufacturers with the National Council for Industrial Defense do not propose to be driven from the field or have their plans thwarted or destroyed by the perjuries and Munchausenism of Mulhall or the complaisance of the Democratic members of the probate committee who, in their eagerness to aid Gompers and discredit the patriotic and efficient manufacturers' union, have allowed every lie that Mulhall has uttered, as a young robin swallows every bug that is dropped into its gaping mouth.

The organization of which Mr. J. Kirby, Jr., is the head has, during the past few years, accomplished much for the cause of industrial freedom. It has kept Congress informed, so to speak, of the ravages of Gompers and his gang and prevented the insertion into the Federal statutes of laws to license picketing and boycotting, and exempt dynamites and firebugs and assassins from punishment.

The National Association of Manufacturers asks no special privileges for capital beyond the protection that existing laws afford it. It does demand that the premium of exemption from the consequences of lawlessness shall not be offered to the I-Won't-Workers.

UNCLE WALT.

The poet philosopher.
When the lunatics foregather to discuss the bill of fare, there is grief in every bosom for they see a vacant chair. "Where is Harry Thaw?" they question. "We have missed him for a while; we have missed his gentle presence, we have missed his winning smile. Lonesome is the place without him, and our games all spirit lack; we are sighing for our playmate—bring our little Harry back!" And the keepers, sad and lonely, turn away to hide a tear; they, too, miss the youth who cheered them in the golden yesterday. Put away his safety razor, put away his fountain pen! Put in lavender his nightgown, he will need them never again. From the place that knew and loved him little Harry's skipped and gone, and the bird of grief broods darkly over mournful Mattawan. When attorneys cease their jawing he may grace your halls once more! After forty years of lawing he may totter to your door! But the present generation will be dead and underground ere his joyous peals of laughter through your corridors resound! Till that time, O Grim Asylum, you may weep for him in vain! Put away his box of talcum, put away his lacquered cane!

WALT MASON.

Pryan Got a New Peasance.

"Pill," say Vilson, "what you do mit dot oit peddle cart?"
"I tot you," say Pryan, "I could make lectures nights. Der vedder vos so cold det Shattuck agnaws der pull down der tent. Why, it vps so cold der chugglers could not chuggle, und der mounting-banks der could not mount; so I sell der crape chuce vat mein admirs der dey giv me before dey know me so pedder as now."
So Vilson he read a sign on Pryan's peddle cart:

Happy Man.

[Chicago Record-Herald:] Lord Haldane, leaving New York, expressed his displeasure over the frequency of American divorce.
"In the train from Philadelphia the other day," he said, "two young and pretty women sat near me.
"So Cora Brown is married, eh?" said the first.
"Yes, married last week," the other answered.
"And who is the happy man?"
"Why, John Brown, of course, whose $5000 alimony now ceases."

NEVER-SHOULD-HAVE-BEENS.

BY HARRY BOWLING.

The best way to reach your proper destination is by not taking the wrong train. Or, if you find yourself on the wrong car, it is better to get a transfer than to blunder along trusting to that providence said to look after sparrows. So if in the treatment of crime and criminals we have been going on a wrong tack, or if the wind has changed since we first set our sails, let us port our helm and see whether it is not possible to make better progress on a different course.

The right point to end crime is before it begins. Propensity is the mother of mischief. These sum up the opinions of a group of noted sociologists and physicians in the city of Boston. Because they are specialists and trained men we need not declare them to be wrong. Nor are they bound to be infallible. Let us travel a little way, however, with them in their special car; let us see how the boat may be expected to progress on this different tack.

Every one admits that it is better to eliminate crime than to punish it. Prevention is better than punishment. After a man has been sent to jail for the second time he seems to acquire the habit, and habit is second nature. Let us be honest. We don't send criminals repeatedly to the lockup for their own good, but for our protection.

The new law suggested by these specialists for the State of Massachusetts is designed to treat law-breaking in the abstract to prevent any future mistreating of the unfortunate in the concrete. For many of those at present locked up in durance vile are simply victims of the "Second Commandment," for whom the "third degree" is not the surest remedy.

It is easy to record the thumb marks of degenerates; it is not so easy to record the brain marks of their parents. It was easy to let the ships of the world go for centuries around the stormy Cape Horn; it was difficult to cut the Panama Canal. So, though it is a long way round to punish law breaking by a succession of imprisonments, it is at present the only course open to us. The Boston specialists propose to cut for us a new Panama Canal—psychological instead of material. Whether the attempt will be "a la De Lesseps" or "according to Goethals" depends on whether they are good psychological engineers.

Dr. Fernald has collected some illuminating facts concerning crime in Massachusetts. "That at least one-fourth of the men in Charlestown State prison ought not to be there. . . . Tests proved that twenty-four out of a hundred inmates in the reformatory at Concord, committed as criminals, were defectively delinquent. Incapable of responding to correctional treatment. That there are 14,000 feeble-minded persons in Massachusetts, all potential criminals, of whom only about 2000 are shut up. That until every one of these defectives is segregated, society will not only remain a prey to crime and criminals, but will be constantly risking an even greater peril—hereditary taint."

From this data it is justifiable to suppose that our present system of criminal jurisprudence may be on the wrong track. "The sins of the fathers are visited on the children to the third and fourth generation." This is a natural and divine law. But man can prevent there being any third or fourth generation of lawbreakers. This cannot be done by allowing the imbecile and criminally tainted to run at large and propagate their species at their own sweet will. Surely there is a shorter road than to be punishing repeatedly the inevitable "third and fourth generation" produced by the unrestrained half-witted.

Fourteen thousand feeble-minded persons—potential criminals—wandering at large in the one small State of Massachusetts! I wonder what the figure would be for the whole of the United States. To segregate these would cost millions of dollars; to prevent them breeding potential criminals to stock the next century with third and fourth generations of the never-should-have-beens would also be expensive. Yet the money spent in New York State over the one insane criminal, Harry Thaw, would have segregated and treated quite a number of the imbecile and the insane classes. Evidently? Yes, there is a tremendous field for it. The best way to see that children are well born is to prevent the imbecile and criminally tainted from becoming fathers and mothers. Bodily sickness is not so fatal as mental and spiritual disease. We had better breed careful and sane.

We have laughed at the "cat and mouse" act of the British government for dealing with the rebellious suffragettes. We needn't. It is the same principle applied to criminals all over the civilized world. We catch them lock them up for a time, and then release them to commit more crime—to chase them down, lock them up again and again turn them loose—and so on till the tragic farce is played out and death rings down the curtain. If society did its duty by these poor creatures they would never have been born. We prefer to be humanely rather than heroically brutal, and so crime is allowed to multiply.

Whose Record Was Cold?
[Chicago Record-Herald:] Fire Commissioner Johnson of New York was talking about an incendiary fire.
"The thing looked suspicious from the start," he said. "It was as suspicious as the drawing-room remark."
"A Bronx girl, on a chilly October evening, was entertaining a young man in the drawing-room."
"How cold his little nose is!"
"This remark, sounding through a flat's thin walls, reached the ears of the girl's mother, causing her to call:
"Mabel, is that dog in the drawing-room again?"
"A long, long silence ensued. Then, in a reluctant and abashed voice Mabel called back:
"No, mamma; the dog isn't in the drawing-room."

Sugar's Confusion.
[Chicago Record-Herald:] Senator Thornton of Louisiana was talking about the tariff bill which he opposed on account of the free sugar clause.
"This bill," he said, "will land the sugar industry, the cane sugar industry, in almost irretrievable confusion."
The sugar industry will be as badly off, also, as the government must.

"This government mule was left at the Nola Chucky station in charge of Uncle Wash White. Its destination was on a label tied by a string to its right foreleg.
"Well, before the mule could be got aboard the car it managed to reach down and eat its label. When Uncle Wash discovered this he threw up his hands and roared:
"What I gwine ter do wiv dish yare mule now? He done et up de place whar he's gwine!"

And now for the orgies of Halloween night. Are the grotesque faces dug up pumpkins all ready? And there is the lock night. How about it, boys?

All is not lost. The pumpkin promises to be abundant for Thanksgiving, and, if that should fail, what is the use with "ham and" for that occasion?

When the revered New York even strikes Los Angeles it is an even war. They can defeat either local team, but the latter does not play their sublimity.

Why not call President Wilson a master? A schoolmaster gives lessons and receives obedience. Does not the President give lessons? The Democrats gladly receive instructions from and obey Mr. Wilson? Huh!

Miss Jessie Wilson has declined to be 600 feet for writing a play. Perhaps Miss Wilson has the saving common sense to know that she could not carry on a play that she tried. But, oh, dear, how many others who don't?

It is announced that Palm Springs oil fortune tellers and palmists stand that none of them ever did a day's work. An interesting commencement oration on the subject of "Labor Omnia Vincit" or "Per Ardua Astra."

Another colored woman, Mrs. George O. Hill, has been sentenced to 10 years in the State Prison for robbing a bank. She was released only lately. Her husband was for forger.

Silk Lisle Hosiery—25 cents!

ONE hundred dozen fine, sheer silky-lisle stockings—in black only—have just been unpacked.

They will be placed on sale, Thursday—at 25 cents the pair.

We expected to mark them 50 cents!

Trouble over their shipment, however—has resulted in the manufacturer allowing us a rebate on the cost price.

So we are able to mark them 25 cents. They'll be ready for you Thursday.

RIVALRY KEEN TO HELP STATE.

Many Tickets Are Sold for Shriners' Concerts.

Krohn Day Adds Over Eight Hundred Admissions.

Warm Reception for Bands in Northern Cities.

Straightaway, strong-arm logic, convincing argument and personal magnetism, without spectacular assisting features, were depended upon yesterday by the committee headed by H. G. Krohn to excel previous records in ticket selling for the Shriner band concerts at Shrine Auditorium next Friday and Saturday. The methods employed by Krohn were effective, for he was able to add up a total of more than 800 tickets for the day's efforts.

A large number of German-American business men of the downtown district were visited and all responded to the appeal of the committee, realizing the fact that the tour of the Shrine Band and Patrol through the eastern cities next spring will result in great advantages to this city and to the State.

Another appeal made by the committee yesterday was on behalf of the orphans and other poor children of the city. Generous citizens were urged, and with success, to purchase tickets and give them to the little ones, who, without such generous action could not be present to enjoy the music of the four combined bands, but who with it could attend one of the matinees, which will be made a children's day.

SOME LARGE PURCHASERS.
Among the large purchasers of the day were the Los Angeles Brewing Company, Mathie Brewing Company, William Hoegge Company, the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank, Herbert G. Wyle, of the Mexican Oil Company, and many others. "Antomobile Row," running from Fifth to Pico streets, on Olive, was invaded and 125 tickets disposed of there. John Luckenbach, jeweler, was a volunteer member of the committee for a part of the day.

TO WELCOME BANDS.
Roger Andrews, president of the Rotary Club, has been appointed chairman of the Reception Committee to welcome the bands and patrol.

It's extravagance to presume you must have a seamstress make the gown, shirtwaist, underwear, etc., you wear every day. Ninety per cent of them can't do as well as you if you have an exact counter-part of your own figure to sew on in a "NATURE FORM." You will enjoy the ease with which you can bring out your own artistic designs on YOU.

at the Arcade depot Friday morning at 11 o'clock, when they arrive from the north. In addition to the Mayors of other California cities, the members of the council and other bodies have been invited to come to Los Angeles to attend the festival of music.

Great enthusiasm has been aroused in the northern cities visited by the combined bands, and the local committee is getting into a nervous condition lest this city might fall behind in showing appreciation of the great work which a group of unselfish men have taken upon their shoulders.

Leo V. Youngworth and his aides are straining every effort to bring Los Angeles's results beyond any other city, and are relying on public-spirited citizens to realize their hopes.

Advice from Sacramento tall of the warm reception accorded the Shriners on Monday night. They were met at the train by enthusiastic crowds, who escorted them to a luncheon served in Agricultural Park by the women of the capital city. A large audience attended the concert. Stockton regarded the visit of the bands as a holiday, and dismissed the schools for the day.

A wonderful reception was accorded the visitors by the crowds which lined the streets.

Strange Disappearance of Highland Park Man Arouses District Attorney's Office; Reward Offered.

Attaches of the District Attorney's office are searching for Many Bacon, a resident of Highland Park, who left home the 23d inst., stating he was going to the country to buy cows. He carried $150. Nothing has been heard of Bacon since he left home.

The missing man's business affairs are in good condition and no reason is known for his disappearance, unless he was slugged and robbed.

Bacon is 6 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, light brown hair, gray eyes, a sharp nose, heavy jaw, dark blue suit.

A reward of $100 has been offered for information leading to his discovery.

the stomach with his right or left foot or both. Little birds sang above the head of Detective Roberts, and little rills of perspiration trickled down his face.

He recovered in time to see Detective Talamantes tussling with Young. The detective got his arm caught in Young's hands and was thrown against a heavy table, spraining his wrist, with a possible broken bone.

Routine couldn't hold anyone in the building by that time. While every office was emptying groups of spectators, Detective George Donoghue, 6442109, rushed upon the captive, disregarding a heavy blow on the face and an upraised chair.

Then something happened to Young. Stars leaped into a blue top, shooting stars and meteors and northern lights, and other magic of the constellations. The chairs were hurled about, the table was awry and torn, and the detectives who had been in the combat were disheveled, but peace came to Young. His introduction to them had been rapid and spectacular, but the force of it had been too much.

It was the biggest rough house the station has had in many months.

AUTHORITY ON ANATOMY DIES

Autopsy Surgeon Succumbs
After Long Illness.

Former Coroner, Councilman and Pharmacist.

Professionally Prominent Post-Mortem Expert.

Autopsy Surgeon George W. Campbell, one of the most widely known men in the medical profession of the State, a former Coroner and Councilman here, died late last night at Clara Barton Hospital.

Dr. Campbell had been in the hospital for a year past and was attend to his official duties for several months.

The Donk shooting at the Hotel furnished his last act. Testimony in the preliminary hearing of Donk was taken at Campbell's residence by Police Judge Williams.

Dr. Campbell came to Los Angeles twenty-seven years ago. He opened a drug store at First and Commercial streets, at the same time began the practice of his profession.

He was elected to the City Council from the old Ninth Ward and served one term, was elected mayor. He served in that capacity for two terms and immediately thereafter was appointed autopsy surgeon by Mayor, Dr. Trout.

AN AUTHORITY.
Among medical men throughout the State, Dr. Campbell was recognized as perhaps the best authority on anatomy in the West. He is said to have performed more post-mortem examinations than any other surgeon in the State and was never known to be tripped up in the many gross cross-examinations to which he was subjected in the many murder cases wherein he was called in testimony.

In addition to his public duties, Campbell found time for social organizations. He was a Mason, a Knight of Pythias and belonged to the Fraternal AM Order. He was well known and respected not only in his own profession but among the other professional men of the city.

BORN IN CANADA.
Dr. Campbell was born on the Ottawa River in Canada, and was twenty-five years old when he married Katharine McCoy of the castle, Ont. In his youth he was as a contractor and engaged in construction of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Later he studied medicine and graduated at the University of Toronto.

Of his immediate family, Campbell and four children, a son and three daughters, a daughter, Lillie and Mrs. E. H. Young.

Funeral arrangements have been made.

SAN PEDRO NOTES.
SAN PEDRO, Oct. 28.—The Federated Social Center was organized last night, a committee of officers and directors was elected and officers elected.

The City Council has voted to place a playground or children's park in a place of recreation in the city and the question as to where the money will be spent is to be decided at Friday's meeting.

Fred Smith, longshoreman, committed suicide by taking his home on the corner of Main and Second streets last night. He seemed to be despondent and had been talking of taking his life. He had a sister by the name of living in Chicago, but his first name or address was not known.

Watson in charge, was killed T. Truett, a police officer on the drawing work the draw bridge, at 5:44 the body was taken to the undertaking parlor. The man was trying to jump the tracks, avoided the northbound train and stepped directly in the incoming train.

RUSSELL IS BADLY BEATEN.
Down South.
African Joe Nearly Knocks Him Out.
Song Saves Italian in the Second Round.
Rivers Breaks His Hand in the Third.
NEW ORLEANS (La.) Oct. 28, 1913.
Sporting Editor The Times.
Los Angeles, Cal.
Rivers was easily knocked out by Russell in the second round. We leave here for Los Angeles November 4. Kid Carter boxes Young Denny here November 10.
JOE LEVY.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Eight rounds for Rivers and two even. That was the score at the end of the ten-round boxing bout between the great little Mexican fighter and Frankie Russell, the local boy, tonight, at Pelican Park. Russell started the ten rounds. That was about all that could be said for him, though he did hold Rivers even in a fast, hard-fought first round and evened matters up pretty fairly in the tenth by coming out of a somnolent spell that lasted through seven long rounds and swapping punches with Rivers almost throughout the three minutes.
NEARLY OUT.
Russell took a beating in the second round that would have laid out a less tough scraper and which it appeared then was going to lay him out for the count of ten, at least. Three times during the round he was stretched on the canvas and counted over by the referee. Two, three and seven seconds, respectively, did he spend in a prone position, while the crowd of 3,000 fans watched with bated breath, either for the count to end at ten, or for the home boy to rise and resume the struggle. The latter was what he did. Not so much the latter, but at least he arose and to the best of his ability covered up, held on to his opponent and saved himself from the stigma attached to a knockout.
Again in the third and in the eighth it appeared that Russell would surely go down for the count, but both times he weathered the storm and kept to his feet.
That Russell was not knocked out was due, it was understood after the bout, to the fact that Rivers broke his right hand by swinging hard to the top of Russell's head, in the third session, after which it was noticed that the Mexican's right was seldom brought into use for more than a guard or to feint with.
With the exception of the first and tenth rounds Russell did very little more than seek to guard against punishment.
BEGINS TO STALL.
In this he put up an exhibition that cost him a great deal of the respect of the local fight fans which formerly he enjoyed. Perhaps, in this case, there was more excuse for this kind of work than in former bouts in which he was winning steadily. When he began to "stall," however, the beating that he received at the hands of Rivers in the second and third was enough to take the "stall" out of any one, big or little, and it is safe to say that there are few lightweights in the country that could have weathered it but on account of the tactics employed, what promised at start to be a hard fought and even contest, was spoiled in the making and it was a one-man fight in the majority of rounds.
If it was Russell's ambition only to stay the limit, he attained it, but strong as he was after he recovered from the immediate effects of his early walloping, it appeared that he could have done much better even to "die fighting" than to survive himself and "get by" in the manner in which he did.
RIVERS LEADS.
Rivers did almost all the leading, except in the first and tenth rounds, and time and again stopped still, dropped his guard, and urged Russell in terms unmistakable to "come and fight and quit running." Russell did do a marathon, even after stopping several times to jeer Rivers.
The fans who had predicted freely that Rivers would display a streak of yellow did not see it. Had Rivers been scared to death, he probably would have kept on fighting as things were going.
Russell in the first round tried his neck hold and uppercut trick that he has used with much effect on other boxers, but which failed with Rivers. A short left hook in the clinches, also was tried, and this worked well, the few times it was started. Hard rights and lefts to the face as Rivers rushed him toward the Mexican's mad career momentarily in the opening session, and by combining all styles, "Frankie" held Rivers to even in the opener.
Rivers used his famous left hook to the head and a terrific right swing to the kidneys continuously varying this with the right cross which was used with disastrous effect to Russell in the second round and in the third until this time was injured.
The gate receipts amounted to about $4,000, according to a statement by Promoter Tortorich after the bout and approximately 3,000 persons saw the fight.
YALE HAS CHANCE.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Close observers of the season's gridiron games in the East are giving Harvard credit for the most consistent showing but do not deny Yale. Yale, despite its scoreless tie with Washington and Jefferson last Saturday promises to strike a big and even stride before the Yale-Harvard battle November 22.

SAM LANGFORD HATED TO LEAVE LOS ANGELES.
SAM LANGFORD, the "cave man" of the ring, spent the day in Los Angeles yesterday, having bade farewell to the fragments of Jack Lester in Taff in the morning, and leaving for the East on the Santa Fe last night.
A grand all-day pork-chop reception took place down in the colored colony with Sam as the repellant hero. He had such a swell time that it was with reluctance that he tore himself away.
"Mistah Woodman," he said wistfully to his manager, "whas a mat-hew we stay here and fight somebody? I dun wanta go back to New York."
"I fear there's nothing doing," said Woodman. "You see, Sam, they are a little afraid of heavyweights match towns. The last heavyweight match held out here, a fellow got killed."
Sam looked disappointed. Then his face lighted up with an inspiration.
"Say, Mistah Woodman," he said. "Ain't they no come around hyah? They wouldn't care if I just killed a coon, would they?"
Being assured that the color didn't make any difference Sam resigned himself to go.
The black boxer's girth has increased alarmingly, but Woodman claims that it isn't at tummy. He says that Sam has increased around the chest and generally has grown to be a bigger boy; that's all.
"His increased weight has made him a little slower on his feet, but he hits harder, so his general average is about the same," says Woodman.

M'CREIDIE WILL TRADE BILL LINDSAY NEXT YEAR.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND, Oct. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am going to trade or sell Bill Lindsay, get another catcher to work with Fisher, a new infielder to play a utility role, and two or three more pitchers and my 1914 team will be complete," said Manager Walter McCredie of the Portland champions, who stepped off the train and immediately beat it for home, where Mrs. McCredie is convalescing from a recent appendicitis operation. Arriving from Sacramento with McCredie were Billy Spens, Ty Lober, Dutch Kores and Bobby Davis.
McCredie will start building up his 1914 team at the Columbia convention of the minor leagues next month. He intends to take in the meeting and do a little swapping.
"I've got to have an infielder who can be in them all the time, and for that reason I am going to let 'Bill Lindsay go. New Orleans wants him, and as Bill used to play down here, he might be able to get by better than here. Kores is going to be a great third baseman, better than Lindsay, because he will hit just about as well in another year."
"If I can trade anybody at the Columbus meeting out of a good catcher, I am going to do it. I'd like to get Grover Land of the Toledo club. If I can get as good a catcher as Land, I'll trade or sell Claude Berry. If I can't, then I'll get a young fellow and let him work with Fisher and Berry to gain experience for the following year. Good catchers are mighty hard to get."
Line-up, Beavers, 1914: Spens, 1b; Davis, 2b; Kores, 3b; Rodgers, 2b; Fisher, Berry on Land (Toledo), 2b; Lober, Chadbourne, Doane, Milligan, outfielders; Hagerman, West, Krauss, Higginbotham, Krapp, pitchers.

GRAND STAND COLLAPSES.
[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
TULSA (Okla.) Oct. 28.—Chester Taylor, private of Co. L, Ninth United States Infantry, was killed and fifty persons were injured, when a crowded stand collapsed at the baseball park here today just before play started in the Chicago American and New York National game.
It is estimated that 500 persons were in the stand when the supports gave way, throwing the occupants to the ground. A company of soldiers was passing under the structure when it collapsed, but with the exception of Taylor all soldiers escaped injury.
PLAYERS' TROUBLES WILL BE SETTLED.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CINCINNATI, Oct. 28.—August Herrman, chairman of the National Baseball Commission in a statement today said he could see very little that is inequitable or improper in the demands recently made by the players through David Fultz, president of the Players' Protective Association and he thought the trouble complained of by the players could be adjusted easily. The statement follows in part: "I find few things inequitable or unreasonable and very few things that cannot be settled quickly with the players."
The present baseball trouble can easily be smoothed over. Most of the players' requests could be adjusted without need of special statutes simply by a few hours' talk between the parties involved.
"Obviously we have not yet received a copy of the players' demands. Only one hitch is likely; the commission will not talk with Mr. Fultz. If the players wish to send a delegation of their own members, with an active player as spokesman, we will receive them in an amicable fashion."
BIG DIVING STUNT.
One of the most sensational diving stunts ever presented to a Los Angeles public was arranged for the fall meeting of the Los Angeles Harrow Horse Association at Exposition Park, November 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, when a contract was signed between the association and Dr. W. F. Carver, for a daily exhibition of his four sensational diving horses, the unruly Montana Bossie, and the famous burro, Jerusalem, of which Mark Train wrote so humorously following his trip through the Holy Land.

RACING CARS ARE WRECKED.

EIGHT SMASH-UPS IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS IS RECORD.

Santa Ana Man Says Few Drivers Who Start in Phoenix Race Will Reach Their Destination—Drys Are Out-Maneuvered by the Wets in Orange County Fight.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 28.—If the grades in the Campo district are as productive of accidents during the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix road race as they have been in the last week, a goodly share of the drivers will never reach Yuma.

That is the way it looks to William C. Jerome, a bean grower of Santa Ana, who had his automobile smashed by a machine full of racers. Jerome was returning in his Halladay car from Imperial, where he has a ranch, with City Trustee W. L. Grubb, M. R. Scott and Harry Spencer of Santa Ana, when a Buick, No. 35,205, swung around a curve on the wrong side of the road, took off a wheel, broke an axle, bent the frame and otherwise damaged Jerome's car.

The Buick repaired its drive shaft and went on, all four occupants refusing to give their names. One of the four told Jerome that one of the Nikes was in the Buick and that they were out viewing the road.

That occurred on the road from Campo. It cost Jerome $45 to have his machine towed to San Diego.

About the same time, on the Cottonwood grade, fifteen miles from Campo, a racing Apperson of San Diego damaged a Pierce-Arrow $100, and smashed itself up so that it will not go in the November 3 race. The Pierce-Arrow belongs to G. W. Fishburn, a San Diego banker.

Near Descanso, a Mercer driven by J. W. Tubbs of Santa Ana had its front end stove in by a machine driven by a woman physician of San Diego.

L. J. McKone of Santa Ana, entered to drive an Cadillac in the race, ran into a house and took off one of his limbs.

"There were eight smash-ups near Campo in the twenty-four hours we were there," said Jerome. "The racing machines go through that section and over those grades like mad. A man's life is not safe. The people of the country thereabouts told us they were afraid to use the roads. Alkali, a hotel man, said he dared not let his children go to school alone. He said everybody was terrorized. This will be the last race that ever goes through that country. If those people can help it, even if they have to put boulders in the road."

NEWS BRIEFS.

It is probable that the drys will fail to get a hearing of large proportion of the charges against the wets whose registrations they have attacked. Out of 154 defendants, forty-one have appeared in court through a demurrer, which cannot be ruled upon before Friday. Sufficient time must be given to answer and immediate trial cannot be secured before November 3, and the election is on November 4. That is probably the best that can be done with one out of three cases filed.

Hank Smith, a San Diego miner, fired a bullet into his head last night and died. He was ill from asthma and rheumatism. His passbook shows that he has $1184 on deposit in a San Diego bank. His close friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kerr, who came here with him on Sunday, say he had a wife and children, but he did not know where they were. He was aged about 62.

Mrs. Clara Fulsom of Garden Grove has ended a contest against the final account of Mrs. Maria L. Harris, widow, in the estate of Richard T. Harris. The contestant states that she as Harris's sister is entitled to one-fourteenth of the estate, and that the estate is worth $40,000 instead of $5500. Mrs. Harris's reply is that all notes and stock held by her husband were made out by "R. T. Harris or Maria L. Harris" and she is entitled to them.

MINNESOTA MAN MAKES LONG TRIP.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 27.—George H. Knoll, fifteen days by auto from Waseca, Minn., arrived here today for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Knoll, of No. 520 Row street. Knoll was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Myrtle, and son, Floyd, who helped him in the driving of their car, a thirty-horse Overland, 1913 model.

The trip was started in mud and slush, and on the way they encountered every kind of a road. They came through Omaha, Cheyenne, Tonopah and Los Angeles, traveled 2221 miles, the biggest day's jaunt being 226 miles, on Nebraska roads.

The fan belt became unlaced, and that was the only thing that went wrong with the Overland on the trip. There was some tire trouble, two new tires being necessary. One of the tires still carries Minnesota air.

Gunboat Smith, who is rapidly knocking out aspirants to the heavyweight boxing championship, began his ring career in 1908. Smith was born in Philadelphia twenty-five years ago. He enlisted in the navy there. Smith is an Irish-American. He got his first lessons in boxing on the deck of the battleship Pennsylvania and was soon recognized as the best fighter in the fleet.

University of Washington (Seattle) variety eight-card shell crew will again compete in the eastern intercollegiate regatta held on the Hudson River in June. Graduate Manager Ralph Horr of the University of Washington has sent a letter to the stewards of the Oxford Regatta, Cambridge regatta of England, asking permission to allow the University of Washington crew to enter into competition against the English variety eight.

RANGE WORK OUT BY POLICE TODAY.

Bishop-street target range is the scene of off-hour activities by members of the police force today, pursuant to a bulletin call issued by Sergeant Smith, department coach, who is to be at the range from 8 o'clock this morning until late afternoon.

Officers are at liberty to consult their own convenience as to time of appearance and practice on the range, adapting themselves to their hours of duty. Sergeant Smith himself gives full eight hours to the cause immediately prior to his eight hours on watch.

As a rule two hours suffice a marksman for the day's practice, including travel; but each man is at liberty to devote as much time to target work as consistent with the rights of others on the ground. City Jailer Shand has improved the range in all departments, banking the shooting house, installing new smooth-working target frames, and re-banking and re-covering the pit-house. Shand is also making good practice with his revolver, becoming a promising candidate for team membership.

Col. Schrieber states that teams are being tentatively made up for representation of the Seventh Regiment in the contest against the officers, final announcements to be made after November 1 regarding elimination and practice conditions.

It is possible that distinct teams formed respectively of officers and enlisted men, non-commissioned, may be entered.

ROLLER MEETS REAL TARTAR.

PASADENA, Oct. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. E. P. Roller, the Pasadena physician, met a tartar in his match with Fred Gruen, the Canadian mat artist, before the Pasadena Athletic Club. Although Roller won both falls, he was extended to the limit in pinning the Canadian's shoulders to the mat. Roller won the first fall in thirty-three minutes with a neck lock and crotch hold.

The second fall was won with a scissors and half Nelson. Gruen put up a great fight and he and the doctor in difficulty several times but Roller's knowledge of the finer points of the game enabled him to wiggle out of several dangerous holds.

Gruen proved himself an adept at the game and was behind Roller almost all of the time before the first fall. Gruen received a great hand from the crowd that packed the Athletic Club. At the conclusion of the bout, Roller paid quite a tribute to Gruen and stated that the Canadian was the best man he had ever met.

west of the Mississippi. The match was refereed by Dan McLeod. Roller weighed 268 pounds, while Gruen stripped to 222.

MORLEY'S NEW SCHEME.

James Morley announces a new plan of entertainment for every Wednesday and Friday evening at his billiard rooms, commencing next Friday.

Opponents are to be drawn by lot among those appearing at 8 o'clock, the winner on each evening having the right to choose his game at 100 points 15-2 ball line, twenty-five points three-cushion, or fifty points pocket billiards. Morley will then play him at his chosen game, giving $5 to the winner, if beaten.

Such a series of informal matches is expected to create interest through variety of play and players.

"When I first began to race, I was a boy of 15 in New Jersey. We didn't race much on race tracks in those days. They wasn't hardly any tracks. We had most of the races on the towpaths of the canals. They didn't have sulkes then. The trotters were ridden by boys, like the mil-liners."

"The first big race I remember being in was between a big horse named Zachary Taylor and Alvarado. I rode Zachary Taylor. That was some time in '58 or '59. I remember that we were to race down the tow-path to one of the canal gates. When I got there I couldn't stop the horse, and he went right on through the gate. I couldn't get off because they had buckled me onto the horse's back with girths."

LOW SCORES ARE TURNED IN FOR WEST HUGHES CUP.

BY BONNIE GLESSNER.

OF THE thirty-six golfers entered in the October tournament at the Annandale Country Club, five turned in their complete scores yesterday. During the remaining three days of the month the keenest sort of good-natured rivalry will mark the play of the other contestants, for the cup which is to be presented by Dr. West Hughes is a handsome trophy and the closeness of the scores turned in thus far indicate the contest will be a close one.

The requirements of the October tournament are that each contestant must turn in at least five complete scores and may turn in ten, of which the lowest five will be counted with full handicap allowances.

The best single score turned in to date was made by A. A. French, one of the best players in the club. His score was 73.

Dr. West Hughes, the donor of the cup that is to go to the contestant making the lowest score, made the lowest complete score that has yet been turned in. Dr. Hughes laughingly says he will not accept the cup if he happens to win it. His net score is 74.

Of those who have turned in complete scores, Dr. J. H. Warner is next with a net score of 75; C. H. Bigger, a net score of 76; H. Newby, a net score of 77, and J. Ball, a net score of 77.

Out at Annandale.

OLDEST TROTTING DRIVER TELLS OF FIRST RACE.

A LITTLE old man hobbled alongside the black trotter, Sir Guy Dillon, as he walked up and down, hooded like a monk, in front of the stables at Exposition Park. "You don't know me?" he said, looking up, disappointed. "I'm Brown. P. J. Brown. The oldest trotting-horse driver in the United States?" He gave a little embarrassed laugh and said: "Well, I dunno; maybe I am. I was training them back in '60. I have been driving race horses more than sixty years."

He stopped and gave Sir Guy a slap on the nose for his forwardness in poking a sweaty nose into the victor's shirt bosom.

"When I first began to race, I was a boy of 15 in New Jersey. We didn't race much on race tracks in those days. They wasn't hardly any tracks. We had most of the races on the towpaths of the canals. They didn't have sulkes then. The trotters were ridden by boys, like the mil-liners."

I couldn't get off because they had buckled me onto the horse's back with girths."

"Hey? The biggest horse I ever developed was Magna Charta. I found him myself. Saw him trotting around in a pasture and saw how he could out-trout all the other horses and I went after him on a chance. Got to be one of the most famous trotting horses in the world. Another great horse that I found was Trinket. I was the head of the big trotting farms at Woodlawn and Indian Hill at one time or another.

WALTER JOHNSON SMEARS THE GIANTS.

[BY A. R. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TULSA (Okla.), Oct. 28.—Walter Johnson, pitching for the Chicago White Sox, opposed Christy Mathewson here today and the White Sox won over the New York Giants, 6 to 0. Johnson held the Giants to eight scratch hits, struck out eight men and walked one. Mathewson was taken out after he allowed two doubles and a single in the fourth inning. Wiltsie, who succeeded Mathewson, was pounded freely. The game was played in a snowstorm.

The score: White Sox, 6; hits, 16; errors, 3. Giants, 0; hits, 8; errors, 2. Batteries—Johnson and Schalk; Mathewson, Wiltsie and Meyers, Wingo.

TWO FOR ONE THE TIMES WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION AND AMERICAN MAGAZINE

A wealth of attractive, clean, interesting reading matter.

The Times has arranged with the publishers of the Woman's Home Companion and the American Magazine to furnish annual subscriptions to both magazines in connection with yearly subscriptions to THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.

The Woman's Home Companion regularly contains contributions on home economies of all kinds; care of babies for young mothers; interesting and attractive articles for young people; a splendid fashion section—in fact, a variety of good subjects suitable for all literary tastes.

The American Magazine is clean and wholesome. At present a very interesting series of stories on the great national pastime, baseball, is being published under the signature of a famous ball player. Special fiction numbers are issued during the year. A particularly good serial story now running is "Angel Island," by Inez Hayes Gilmore; also stories of adventure.

The Times is the biggest newspaper published on the Pacific Coast; biggest because it contains all the news and a greater volume of advertising than is printed by any other newspaper. The Associated Press dispatches, supplemented by a comprehensive special wire service, give Times' readers all the news of the world. Practically one entire section of the paper is devoted to matters of local interest.

A 4-page Sporting Section is a regular daily feature of The Times.

The Sunday Times regularly includes a 24-page Illustrated Weekly, a publication unique in the newspaper world.

This great mass of excellent reading matter is furnished to The Times' subscribers, old and new, at a special price to be had on application at The Times' main office, First and Broadway; at the Branch Office, 619 South Spring street, or through any regular Times agent. Old subscribers, not already on subscription contract, are privileged to take advantage of this splendid subscription offer.

The Folly of The Hague

By Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Mahan.

If "War is Hell," how avoid it? The camps of statesmen throughout the civilized world are divided on the answer—our two living Ex-Presidents are exponents of opposite solutions to this momentous problem! Can a nation's honor be arbitrated successfully, lastingly? Is disarmament the herald of peace among nations? "In time of peace, prepare for war" is an old adage, but in this enlightened age, we should heed the nobler admonition—In time of peace, prepare for peace. How? Rear-Admiral Mahan asks and answers this question in his masterful article, "The Folly of The Hague."

The Handicap of the Well-Born Child

By H. Addington Bruce.

Drawings by Harry Stoner.

Much has been written about the miserable influence which have shaped the characters of criminals who, in their early lives, were left to chance and deprived of moral culture. But why should the well-born child, whose parents seemingly leave nothing undone to promote his welfare physically and mentally, be surrounded by dangers equally as grave as his stigmatized brother? H. Addington Bruce's article is intensely interesting and educating to all parents.

An Automobile Ride

By Robert Barr.

The first of the Lord Stranleigh stories, which appeared in the last issue, has already introduced our readers to the clever and enormously rich young nobleman and his adventures. In this story we find him again on "The right side of the ledger." His business ability and shrewdness are worthy of an American business man. We're sure you'll enjoy this engaging short story.

The Feast—A Poem

By Edgar Salts.

Decorated by Paul Brunson.

It is only fitting that more than casual mention be made of the strong and living drawing that illustrates this vivid poem. The master-hand is at once discerned in both.

Women of Mark

Not only do the sketches of these women make interesting reading, but in this issue there may be a suggestion or two for an ambitious woman in practically untrodden fields.

New Wrinkles

Nearly every day we are overwhelmed by the great number of "hints" that are sent in, proving the popularity of this department. There are several exchanges of ideas in this number that should be helpful to the watchful house-keeper.

A Tip from Headquarters

The cover design is a humorous drawing, showing Cupid in a new role, without his bow and darts, whispering into the ear of the wise old stork.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

THE social season of 1913 was ushered in last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rivers Drake of Hoover street, who entertained a dinner and dance to announce engagement of their daughter, Margarette Drake, to Charles Kemmer, Jr., member of an old and distinguished family of Stuttgart, Germany.

The news, which was told by Mr. Drake during the first course, came as a surprise even to members of the family, as the young bride-elect had secretly guarded the gossip since last, in spite of the fact that she had escaped six weeks ago, in Germany and in New York, where the groom-to-be resides.

Marguerite was the only blossom in the decorations, and the rooms were banked with the pretty flowers, many of them having been arranged in every available nook and corner. Friends regret that the young couple plan to make their home in New York, but it is hoped that Mr. Kemmer, who came to Los Angeles last evening's party, may change mind and decide in favor of California.

The function was a fitting opening for the winter season, as it was just years ago last night that the favorite set the social ball of whirling at an elaborate reception at which she made her first bow to several hundred guests.

The bride-elect received her early education at Colgate in the city, at Miss Hamlin's School in San Francisco. Later she went abroad, to her mother, where a year was before entering Briar Cliff Seminary in New York. Mr. Kemmer, educated abroad, much of his being spent in Paris.

Two little flower girls, Cecelia Denker of this city, and Virginia Maugherty of Riverside, wore childish frocks of pink and carried pink shower bouquets. Frank Culver was his brother's best man.

The home was radiant with white chrysanthemums and pink carnations arranged gracefully against a background of potted ferns and palms. Special music was rendered by Miss Elsa Schroder, Mrs. Philip Zobelein and an orchestra. Following the ceremony supper was served, the bride's table glowing with white roses and maidenhair. An old-fashioned dancing party was a merry feature later.

Mr. and Mrs. Culver, at the conclusion of a three weeks' honeymoon, will reside with the bride's parents until the completion of their own home in the Wilshire district.

PANAMA-PACIFIC MUSICAL FETE.

Extensive Plans of Committee on Music.

Outlined Choral Programmes of Exposition.

Two Auditoriums Designed for Symphony and Opera.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

International expositions have generally failed to give to the world an important musical message. From the World's Fair at Chicago to the present, the art of music has been largely represented in expositions, but has been far inferior to the expression of other fine arts.

This has been due to two causes: unsuited concert halls, lacking the property quality of acoustics, and the selection of the musical director. In every case, as it was natural, an eminent musician was chosen to prepare the work, solve the financial problems and direct the musical production. Musical temperament seldom is found combined with practical executive ability. With the best intentions in the world a very able artist has been submerged and lost by business details of an occasional and vast musical programme.

From time to time, the plans of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition have been outlined and assumed of its ambitions in the musical field has been expressed. The plans were, like in the case of many of the preceding expositions, most extensive in scope.

Whether or not they could be carried out, what they really comprised, were subjects of keen interest for me, when I met, recently, J. B. Levenson, chairman of the Committee on Music of the exposition, in San Francisco.

After an hour's talk I became convinced that the exposition management had placed the interests of its musical department in the very best hands imaginable.

Mr. Levenson is well known on the Pacific Coast as a successful man of affairs, at the head of important interests. He is esteemed as practical, resourceful and possessed of great executive ability. Among musicians his musical knowledge and judgment has long been recognized. He is a student of high standing, member of the board of governors of the musical society, and spends much time in Europe.

The Panama-Pacific Exposition has therefore been fortunate in securing the enthusiastic services of a practical chairman who is a fine judge of music, possessed also of a broad vision.

The first executive act of Mr. Levenson was to call George W. Stewart of Boston to the important post of director. This well-known musician has gained wide recognition as director of choral and symphonic forces. He distinguished himself as musical director of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition of 1884, organized the Boston Festival Orchestra and directed the Boston Band. His wide acquaintance with musicians here and abroad is a great asset in carrying out the executive plans of the Committee on Music.

It is proposed, and Mr. Stewart is now in the East to arrange details, to have a symphonic orchestra, composed of the best obtainable material here and abroad. After a year of daily concerts, San Francisco will have, and may retain, possibly in combination with its present symphony orchestra, the most reasonable aggregation of orchestral talent obtainable. In any case, this phase of the art will be as adequately represented as it is possible to do.

In the choral division of musical festivals, a national standard will be held in 1915, on the lines of the world-famed standard of Wales, $25,000 will be the choral prize, $10,000 the one for the male choir, and other large sums will be given for soloists and compositions.

The bard of the standard will be crowned as in the original institution of Druidic standard (festival sessions) and the Gorsedd, the executive, will endorse the winner of the winning ode upon the chair borne out of solid oak.

Over fifteen male choirs from Wales have expressed their intention of coming, and over 10,000 members of choral societies from all over the country are expected to compete.

Children's choral festivals will be an important feature of the summer months. Modern compositions will be played by named orchestras and the best symphony written by an American citizen of Italian birth or extraction will be given; it is to receive $10,000 prize offered by the New York Philharmonic Society.

Great soloists will be heard almost daily in Festival Hall, the musical center of the exposition; organ recitals will also be given on the magnificent instrument, now being built, which will be at the foot of a tower rising from the court; echo organs will be placed in the towers of the festival court.

These extensive plans seeking to reach the highest possible standard are now under way, and little doubt may be had that the promises will be fully and thoroughly carried out.

Coup Goes Up Slightly With the Near Approach of Winter and Longs Are Able to Profit by It. Oats Are Decidedly Heavy Owing to Excess of Supply.

Optimistic Regarding Money Conditions.
We have got the copper habit," J. C. Jackling, mining expert, declared yesterday of the tremendous increase in consumption of the red metal in recent years. Jackling is making his annual trip of inspection to the many properties in which he is interested, and is returning for the day at the Alhambra Hotel, accompanied by Charles Hays, a member of the firm of Stone & Co., probably the largest mining-banking firm in the west. C. MacNeil, president of the United States Copper Company, and J. E. Babitt, general manager for all the properties in which he and the others are interested, also are here.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Councilman Conwell led a fight on the "pure politics" election ordinance yesterday and caused it to be held over for a week, being supported by Councilman Snowden in opposition to the measure.

Representatives of power companies will meet with the City Council this morning to discuss the proposed lease by the city of all electrical distributing systems.

A "general store" run by the city was suggested at a meeting of the Municipal Charities Commission yesterday.

Three new jobs in the city service will be arranged by the Civil Service Commission, the trio to handle the work of the proposed new employment bureau to be run by the city.

Engineering mistakes have been detected in grading of streets and the brakes were put on the method of rushing these ordinances through the Council.

BALLOT MEASURE HOTLY OPPOSED.

CAMPAIGN ORDINANCE GOES OVER FOR A WEEK.

Two Councilmen Oppose and Two Support Proposed Law Making Paid Election Work Unlawful; Arrangement of Measure Answered by Wheeler and Bryant.

Opposition to the political campaign ordinance developed in the City Council yesterday, when Councilman Conwell led a short but effective fight on the measure. He was seconded by Councilman Snowden, who laconically remarked:

"I would not vote for the ordinance yesterday because I was not familiar with it; I will not vote for it today because I am."

"It is frank legislation, impossible of enforcement," said Councilman Conwell. "In its last analysis it permits fanatics and extremists to do for love what no honest man is allowed to do for pay. It places a premium on dishonesty. As to frank ordinances we have one on our books now that prohibits street car conductors from shooting jackrabbits while on duty."

After Bryant had indorsed the measure on the ground that it made way for volunteer work in campaigns Wheeler demanded specific objections to the measure, and added that "our best citizens" do all the corrupting of voters and men in office.

"This measure offers a chance for decency, honesty and purity in politics," he said.

The measure having met with opposition, Wheeler withdrew his motion for its passage.

DISCUSS LEASING.

POWER MEN TO CONFER. Representatives of power companies will confer with the City Council this morning on the proposition to the Council regarding the proposed leasing by the city of the electrical distributing systems with a view to ultimate public ownership.

President Whitford, who submitted the unsigned proposition to the Council, assures his colleagues that the invitation sent to the three power companies will be accepted and that the whole matter may be discussed in committee of the whole this morning.

Chairman Belkouski of the Public Service Committee yesterday received a letter from E. F. Scattergood, chief engineer of the aqueduct, asking the Council to employ three prominent electrical engineers to investigate investment cost, annual earnings, expenditures and make an impartial report that may be published for the enlightenment of the people.

Scattergood's theory is that the people are not wholly informed on the aqueduct power bond question and he believes that before the people should vote on a lump sum of $6,500,000 they should be acquainted with every phase of the question.

The Public Service Committee, to which the letter was referred, will be ready to act on the suggestion in a few days.

GENERAL STORE?

MAY GO INTO BUSINESS. Mrs. O. P. Clark, a member of the Municipal Charities Commission, yesterday suggested a plan whereby the city establish a "general store," at which all of the charitable institutions now buying at retail rates may purchase their supplies at wholesale rates.

Mrs. Clark charged that under the present system of purchases the charitable institutions were subjected to the devious ways of the small retailer and were sometimes compelled to accept inferior goods.

The commission placed its indorsement upon the Coleman House Association and the Los Angeles Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

EMPLOY TO EMPLOY.

THREE CITY JOBS OPEN.

For the establishment of a municipal employment bureau on January 1, 1914, the Municipal Charities Commission yesterday asked the Civil Service Commission to hold examinations for manager, assistant manager and recording clerk of the proposed new bureau. The city will go into competition with employment agencies on the first of the year, when it is expected that a well-equipped office will be started. The 1913-14 budget contained appropriation for only six months' work and the sponsors of the movement hope that by July of next year the bureau will have demonstrated its worth to the extent of getting a fuller appropriation.

SLACKEN SPEED.

NEW GRADES; MORE CARE. The habit of "railroading" through the City Council ordinances for change of grade in various streets brought about at least one engineering blunder, according to Councilman Belkouski, whose warning yesterday slackened the speed of the routine ordinances and caused some of them to be referred to the Councilman.

The Councilman advised the necessity of having a representative of the City Engineer on hand to explain each new ordinance after it is established street grades, and pointed to an intersection at Eighth and Central as a horrible example of the speed with which grade ordinances are passed.

Tackle Liquor Question.

Councilmen Conwell, McKenzie and Wheeler, with the first-named as chairman, have been appointed by President Whitford as a special committee to wrestle with the question of raising saloon licenses to a rate more in proportion to their value than the present rate now in existence. The Council having decided not to extend the liquor zone removes one problem from this special committee.

Delay Taxi Conference.

The Council Committee on Public Service yesterday postponed for two weeks the conference with taxicab operators upon the proposed new ordinance changing the taxicab rates. In the meantime the association of taxi owners and operators is busy gathering statistics to present to the next meeting of the committee.

Raise City Hall Annex.

The City Council yesterday voted to add a third story to the annex to the City Hall, and plans and specifications were ordered drawn and submitted. The improvement will cost $10,000. Councilman Landon hesitated to indorse the move until he was assured that the improvement would not stand in the way of any future plans for a new City Hall.

DENIES ESPEE A NEW TRIAL.

DEVELOPMENT COMPANY SUIT TO SUPREME COURT.

Receiver Talks on American Interests in Mexico and Seeks Advice as to Course to Be Pursued in View of Conditions on Other Side of the Boundary.

The Southern Pacific's motions for a new trial and vacation of the judgment given by Judge Bordwell in foreclosure proceedings in the California Development Company's litigation, were denied by Judge Meyers yesterday.

Objections of the New Liverpool Salt Company to the motions had been overruled by the court, and after a conference with the judge in chambers, the attorneys agreed to submit the matter without argument.

The Southern Pacific will appeal the case to the Supreme Court. Attorney Seabury, representing Receiver Holabird, for the California Development Company, asked the court for instructions as to the procedure the receiver for certain creditors shall take with reference to the critical situation in Mexico.

Salisbury stated that as Receiver Holabird had been ordered out of Mexico on an order of the Mexican court, the operation of the canals in Mexico is impaired.

Andrade for the Mexican company not having the equipment to do the work and insure an adequate supply of water to the American land.

Former Senator Ives suggested that Andrade and his attorneys be invited to a conference with the court. This suggestion brought forward Attorney J. S. Ross, representing Andrade in California. Ross answered questions on the understanding that the Mexican receiver was not a party to the suit or involved in the litigation. Interrogations by Attorney McCutcheon for the New Liverpool Salt Company brought a protest from Attorney Ives, for the Southern Pacific, and that the information he had volunteered be stricken from the record. McCutcheon thought it ought to remain.

"I think Mr. McCutcheon is trying to take an unfair advantage of me," said Ross.

"Just what do you mean by an unfair advantage?" asked McCutcheon. Ross made no reply, but resumed his argument in the jury box, where he had been an interested spectator of the argument during the afternoon.

"I think you have killed the goose that laid the golden egg," commented Ives to McCutcheon.

In a statement to the court, Receiver Holabird said that since he assumed the receivership position he has expended $440,000 in Mexico, the outlay being principally for levees, work on the canals and structural work; that he had never received a cent for water collections in Mexico, and that as far as he knew, Receiver Andrade had never spent anything on the main canals in Mexico.

Holabird said Andrade should have obtained from $75 to $250 a day from water collections, and assumed that he had.

The Mexican receiver is said to be now illegally selling water to the Imperial Southside Company, and the Alamo Company.

Col. Holabird was not willing to make an agreement with Andrade regarding the work in Mexico unless instructed by the court as to how far he might go.

In answer to a question, Col. Holabird replied that the work most necessary is the dredging of the West Side main canal and others, and to a system for the transportation of water to replace the disabled Encina flume. He stated that the only order from the Mexican court he had obeyed was to get out.

WINS INSURANCE.

FISH BONE DEATH CAUSE.

That a fish bone in the throat of Frank McFarland caused his death by peritonitis was the finding of Judge Welborn yesterday in the widow's suit against the California Accident Association to recover $5000 damages on an insurance policy. Experts on both sides testified for and against the allegation that the fish bone was the indirect cause of death. Judgment in full is given. The experts were Dr. John J. Kyle and Dr. Ethel Leonard, for the plaintiff, and Dr. Stanley F. Elk and Dr. Walter Brem for the defendant.

TRIAL SEPARATION.

NEW YORK WOMAN SUES HERE. A trial separation has been ordered by Judge Haines in the case of Mrs. Maybelle Haines, wife of F. Arthur Haines, an auto supply man of New York, that they would be happier apart. Mrs. Haines brought suit for divorce, alleging that he sent her to Los Angeles and failed to contribute to her support.

She gave her testimony in Judge Haines' court. After reading a letter Haines wrote to his wife, the court continued the case until Haines' deposition can be taken.

In his letter, Haines stated that Mrs. Haines left by mutual agreement, after difficulties caused by her alone, and with the understanding that after a trial of three or four months, they were to decide whether or not they should rejoin. "But, inasmuch as you have started this action," he says, "it proves beyond a doubt you are determined to live apart." Haines intimated that he intends filing a cross-complaint, bringing out matters which she "must surely realize will stand in her way." The Haines were married at New York July 25, 1908.

ON THE SCALES.

CASPAR WILL CONTEST. The fate of the sensational Caspar will contest is in the hands of Judge Howland.

Attorneys Trippe and Chapman, counsel for Mrs. Emily Ainley, the chief beneficiary under Shoppin Caspar's will, renewed their motion for a non-suit, and it was taken under advisement by the court.

Judge Howland previously granted a motion for a non-suit, but on the showing of Attorney Harris and Graves, who produced evidence that the case was reopened. This new evidence, to the minds of Mrs. Ainley's counsel, did not bear on the question of the sound disposing mind of Caspar to make a will, and a non-suit was asked.

Throughout the long trial, Mrs. Ainley, a slender woman, showed wonderful fortitude in the face of the sensational allegations of the contestant, Schmitt Bahlke, a cousin of Caspar. On the stand she was cool and collected, emphatically denying that she in any way influenced the elderly bachelor in making his will.

SUBMITTED.

CITY'S CONDEMNATION SUIT. The city's condemnation suit against Jessica S. Vance was submitted in Judge Works's court yesterday.

The suit covers the easement of the main Hollywood street from Third to Fourth street. The question threshed out was whether or not the city could show benefits derived from the sewer in an action to condemn for an easement. The defendant claimed section 1248 of the Civil Code of procedure.

Martin Smith, expert for the defendant, named $14,000 damages for easement, and $25,000 actual damages. For the city, a value of $750 was placed on the land taken for easement, and no damages.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

ADMITTS PAROLE VIOLATION. Ira F. Harris, who admitted having violated his parole, was given another chance by Judge Bordwell yesterday, when strong pleas were made on behalf of the young man by his wife and friends.

Harris once passed a petition check while under the influence of liquor. He was placed on probation, sent to Patton for a period and ordered to take a liquor check.

Harris kept to his promise for a long time, stated Deputy District Attorney Powell, Powell did not strongly oppose the plea for leniency. Hereafter, if the probationer enters a saloon or drinks he will be sentenced on the petition check charge.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BRETTIES' FIGHT. BRETTIES OFFER DOWN. The peculiar situation growing out of the application for the adoption of Harmon Swearingin, the 4-month-old daughter of Nina Swearingin, by Mr. and Mrs. John Hines, resulted yesterday in court denial of the application.

The child's mother was in debt to Hines and consented to the adoption. But the court had located a good home for the babe.

ON THE WING. Sarah E. Shields's suit against J. L. Van Every and others for recovery of a mortgage developed a case of locomotor judicium yesterday. The attorneys and parties to the action first went to Department Eleven, and finding no opportunity to be heard, hiked over to Department Seven.

For the same cause they journeyed to Department Five, and finally found a haven in Department Five, Judge Welborn trying the case.

SUIT FOR PAIN. Alleging that a defective wire broke and caused him to fall from the top of a telephone pole, George H. Harmon filed a $20,000 suit yesterday against the Home Telephone Company. Harmon alleges that he sustained a concussion of the spine and contusions of the body.

THIRD PLEA. Neil Svenson, accused of robbery, asked the court to allow him to withdraw his plea of guilty yesterday after learning that his application for a mortgage was about to be denied. He first pleaded not guilty when taken into Judge Craig's court, but changed his mind.

FIVE YEARS OLD. In the paragraph in The Times yesterday reporting that Mrs. George H. Harmon had won a verdict of $2500 in her damage suit against D. and Rudolph Swinner, in Judge Wilbur's court, for the fatal injury to her son in an automobile accident at Venice, it was stated that her youngest child is eighteen months old. The youngest is five years old.

City and Valley Improvement Company, Incorporated, John S. Lilley, Francis O. Lilley, Harry E. Denison, Clarence R. Naff, Stella Britton; capital stock, $50,000; subscribed, $25.

SMALL CHECK PHONEY. Deputy District Attorney Gets Thanks and Cigar for Advice, But Leaves His Man. Deputy District Attorney Shannon, with much applause, refused yesterday to issue a complaint charging an offender with having passed a bad check for 50 cents.

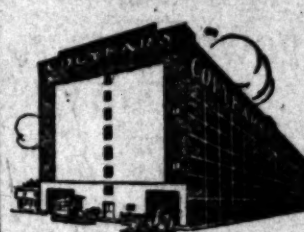

He told J. Lantieri, who asked for the complaint, that it would be far better to let the guilty man escape than put the county to the expense of trying it and increasing the tax burden of the county.

So convincing was Shannon's argument that his visitor thanked him and gave him a cigar. Meantime, Shannon will do all he can to locate the fellow who passed the check and compel him to make restitution.

TO ANSWER BY BRIEFS.

Mrs. Keating Makes No Reply as Yet to Husband's Appeal to the State Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court completed its business for the October term in this city yesterday and the members of the court left for the North. In Department Two was heard the case of Hazel M. Keating against Edward Keating, appealed from the court of Superior Judge Church. The action was for a divorce granted by Judge Church on a statutory allegation and an allowance of $55,000 to Mrs. Keating.

The alleged bias of Judge Church in the case was cited as one of the reasons for a review and overruling of the judgment of the court below, and it was argued that the court was not justified in awarding a lump of all-mony. It was also asserted that the evidence was insufficient to support statutory finding against the defendant. On the part of the plaintiff there was no argument, the statement being made that the case was closed would answer the contention of the appellant.

"THE SHADOW" DELAYED. "The Shadow" was not cast upon the screen for inspection yesterday. An interested and impatient group hung about Police Judge Frederickson's court all day awaiting the arrival of the film that depicts "The Escape."

Error in shipping directions delayed the film so it will not arrive until this morning. It is this film that is described as "lewd, lascivious, indecent and objectionable" by the City Prosecutor in a complaint he issued against its owners and the local theater showing it. The jury will be asked to watch the film and the parts supposed to contain undesirable pictures will be slowly cast upon the screen, so that a careful inspection can be given.

NEW COURT TODAY.

It is expected that Judge Rodkin, here from Washington, will open court today in the Federal building and remain in the local courts several months, assisting in clearing up the docket. The case against W. J. Delen and others, involving a charge of concealing the assets of the Sunset hotel from the creditors, is set for today. Judge Welborn said yesterday that he hopes also to secure the services of Judge Ben of Portland, to assist in the work here.

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING DOESN'T GET ANY LOWER BY LOW COST OF CLOTHES; CHEAPNESS IN CLOTHES USUALLY MEANS INFERIORITY RATHER THAN ECONOMY. IT IS ONE OF THE SIGNS OF BUSINESS JUDGMENT THAT A MAN SEES THE WISDOM OF PAYING MORE FOR GOODS IN ORDER TO GET REAL ECONOMY.

If you pay $25 for a suit of our clothes you'll get much more than the difference in value, than if you buy a $12 or $15 suit. We make a special feature of the $25 price because of the value we know is in the suits at that price.

You'll find our clothes at $18 and $20 and up to $40 and $50; at $25 you'll get big value.
